ARMY MEN BELIEVE VILLA LIVES

SAW MISS ARNOLD BURIED

Grewsome Details of Fate of Girl Who Disappeared Six Years Ago Given by Rhode Island Prisoner

Providence, April 17.—Dorothy Arnold, who disappeared from her New York home six years ago, is buried in the cellar of a house in West Point, according to a statement made by an inmate of a Rhode Island penal institution.

The prisoner, Edward Glennoris, who was a New York gunman, declared that he was one of two men hired to protect a doctor while the body was being disposed of, and that he received $250 for his share.

DENIAL BY PRISONER.

Mystery was lent to the case later in the day when Glennoris was seen at the prison and denied that he had made any confession about Miss Arnold's death to Warden Davis. It was believed that the secret police investigation may have had something to do with Glennoris' statement.

Attorney John S. Keith, lawyer for the Arnold family, said today in New York:

"The confession seems logical, in a way, but we have proved beyond a doubt that there was no necessity for an operation on Miss Arnold.

"That was proved shortly after her disappearance. This story will be investigated thoroughly. If Miss Arnold's body has been buried we can identify it by her teeth."

The convict has recently acquired

Methodists May Go to Theatres and Dance, Vote at Worcester

Worcester, April 17.—The New England Methodist Episcopal Conference, which is conducting its 120th annual session in this city, went on record today as in favor of permitting young people to dance, attend dancing schools, go to theatres or circuses and to take part in other forms of amusement now prohibited.

Action was taken by adopting a memorial which was presented by the committee on memorials. The vote was unanimous.

The memorial urged that that section in the book of discipline which refers to dancing, dancing schools, horse races and theatres be stricken out. The question is to come up for decision at the General Conference to be held in Saratoga Springs.

Another important memorial was adopted today. This favors amalgamation of the Northern and Southern churches, but is against segregation of negroes at worship. The question is one that is being agitated at all of the conferences.

Bishop John W. Hamilton will announce changes in pastorate tonight.

POLICE QUELL WAR RIOTING IN ATHENS

By International News Service.

Athens, April 17.—A number of arrests have been made as the result of a political riot on Sunday in which many shots were fired. Supporters of former Premier Venizelos were holding a mass meeting in favor of intervention in the war on the side of the allies, when opponents of Venizelos, who had secretly made their way into the hall, began to shout "Down with Venizelos," "Down with the traitors" and "Long Live the King."

The police cleared the hall amidst great disorder.

AMERICANS LOST ON LINER, IS REPORT

By International News Service.

Liverpool, April 17.—The United States consul is making efforts to confirm the statement of William Georgeson and Stewart Ross, seamen on board the torpedoed British ship Inverlyon, that some Americans probably lost their lives when the vessel was sent to the bottom by a German submarine last Tuesday.

According to Ross and Georgeson, Chief Officer Penny, three apprentices and six seamen from the Inverlyon are still missing and, among the latter are some Americans. Both Georgeson and Ross are citizens of the United States, the former hailing from Pennsylvania and the latter from Florida.

SUSSEX NOTE IS READY

To Be Dispatched to Germany as Soon as President Wilson Has Shown It to Congress Leaders

Washington, April 17.—American Consul C. H. Hurst at Barcelona, Spain, today cabled the State Department that two Americans were aboard the Russian ship Imperator, and one was injured when the vessel was fired on by an Austrian submarine, near the Columbrede Islands. The injured American, Gustav Olsen, is in a hospital at Barcelona. Aner Swennson, the other American, was uninjured. Consul Hurst said the ship was fired on by cannon without warning by an Austrian submarine. Swennson's father is leader of the Coast Artillery Band at Fort Warren, Boston.

Washington, April 17.—President Wilson today had before him the complete text of the American note to Germany which was expected to bring the submarine situation to a head.

It is a comprehensive recital of various cases in which the United States contends the pledges of the German government have been violated by submarine commanders.

Unless present plans are changed it will go forward to Berlin before tomorrow afternoon. It still has to be submitted to the Senate and House leaders, but, unless plans are changed

CORKERY MAY BE BARRED

B. A. A. Looking Up Standing of Canadian Star Marathon Runner After the Report of Race Against a Professional

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

The ever complicated method of handling amateur athletics in Canada bids fair to rob Wednesday's B. A. A. marathon race of James J. Corkery of Toronto, one of its star entrants from across the border. In Canada it is alleged that Corkery, through having competed in a special race at a regimental field day against Tom Longboat, was divested of his amateur standing.

Colonel Billings of the B. A. A. stated today that at the present time the matter was being looked into and that no decision had been reached as yet. The matter is very complicated and it would not be at all surprising if Corkery were permitted to compete in the run. Some amateurs in Canada do not think that it is proper to ban him and hope that his entry is allowed for the Boston race.

RUBBER RULES FOR AMATEURS.

According to reports received in Boston, a ruling was made some time ago by the president of the Dominion Football Association which allowed amateur football players who enlisted for service to compete against professionals who were also enlisted. Corkery is a corporal in the Sportsman's Battalion of Toronto and Tom Longboat, the noted Indian runner, is also a corporal.

Captain Tom Flanagan arranged a patriotic field day and, assuming that it would be proper, had a mile race between Corkery and Longboat. The race was run and Corkery won.

Prior to this the big bugs in the amateur game had protested against the action of the head of the football association.

Now it is argued that if they were sincere in their protest against amateur football players competing against professionals they must declare Corkery a professional.

MARTINEAU MAY NOT RACE.

It also seems probable that Edmund Martineau, the French Canadian amateur from Montreal, will not be in the race. Martineau is employed in a bank and since forwarding his entry to George Brown he has found it impossible to properly train.

Consequently he has written Brown a letter, so Canadian reports have it, asking that his entry be withdrawn.

These additional entries, including that of Jamieson, the noted Indian runner, was received today: Robert Morhmann, Fort Williams, Mr. Manuel Thema, Cambridge; John J. Callan, Cambridge; A. Montevecchio, Johnstown, N. Y.; Orthur Lee Jamieson, Hamilton, Ontario.

Latest War Bulletins

Athens, April 17.—The raid of British aviators over Constantinople caused a reign of terror among the Turks. Much damage was done in the Turkish capital by fires set by incendiary bombs. Although the flight was one of 300 miles, and although they were fired upon and had to pass through storms, all three of the machines returned safely.

London, April 17.—The British steamer Harrovian, bound from New York to Havre, has been sunk. The vessel was unarmed. It is presumed to have been torpedoed by a German submarine. The Norwegian schooner Glendoon, 1917 tons, has been sunk by gunfire. The Harrovian displaced 4309 tons and was built in 1914. It was a Cambrian liner hailing from London.

London, April 17.—Strong demands for the extension of conscription to the married men was made at a meeting of the cabinet today. The session was described by the parliamentary correspondent of the Chronicle as possessing the possibilities for the most momentous consequences.

Berlin, April 17.—Lieutenant Berthold of the German air service, brought down his fifth enemy aeroplane, a British biplane, near Peronne, in Belgium, on Sunday, the German War Office announced today.

Bullets from Home Kill Our Men in Mexico

El Paso, April 17.

THE ammunition with which two American soldiers were killed and six wounded at Parral was bought in the United States.

Its exportation across the border to Mexico was authorized by the United States Government.

Even now fresh supplies of American-made ammunition are pouring into Mexico and will in all likelihood be used to kill more American soldiers.

During the eight months ending February 29, this year, American munitions to the following amounts went into Mexico:

Cartridges	$1,714,821
Dynamite	337,049
Gunpowder	19,313
Other explosives	110,369
Firearms	509,047

Major Howze, reporting to General Funston, included the names of the killed and wounded in the actions he had with Villistas before he reached Santa Cruz, as follows:

Killed:

Kirby, Troop M, Eleventh Cavalry.

Wounded:

Perroski and Clifton, Troop E, same regiment.

RUSE SUSPECTED IN DEATH REPORT

Washington, April 17.—Nobody in authority believes yet that Francisco Villa, the Mexican outlaw, is dead. A Carranza subterfuge to get the punitive expedition out of Mexico is suspected. Thus far Carranza has failed utterly to produce any proof that Villa's body has been found.

Washington officialdom utterly discredits the reports from Carranza sources that the arch-murderer expired from a gangrened wound or from any other cause and that his body is on the way to Chihuahua City to be exhibited in proof of this claim.

Real confirmatory reports are lacking. General Bell at El Paso and General Funston at San Antonio take no stock in the Villa death story.

Unofficial reports from San Antonio quote Major Howze, commanding a picked squadron of the Eleventh Cavalry, as saying positively that Villa is alive.

The War Department is anxious to hear an official version of the story that Major Howze reported Villa as in the mountains southwest of Laborja or Santa Borja, some fifty miles northwest of Parral.

General Bell and General Funston take no stock in the Villa death report. But the question can be settled when the body is viewed by our representatives. General Scott, chief of the General Staff, says that, if the body is that of Villa, the fact will be easy to determine.

At the Mexican Embassy it was said details were still being awaited. All officials there knew was what had been carried in the press dispatches and brief reports along the same line from representatives at Mexico City and Juarez.

It was said that before this government accepts the reported death of Villa as true, it will insist on an identification of the body by Consular Agent [illegible] at Chihuahua and Consul Letcher, both of whom have been long intimate with the bandit chief.

TO EXPEL FOREIGNERS.

In the wake of Villa reports other Mexican matters of grave moment appear in the Mexican dispatches today.

The first intimation that foreigners were to be ordered out of Mexico came today in the form of a dispatch from Mexico City, via Galveston, Tex., saying that the diplomatic corps at Mexico City had requested Sub-Secretary Amador of the Mexican Foreign Office to grant time for foreigners' departure that would give them oppor-

Lynch Man After Storming Jail in Bonifay, Florida

By International News Service.

Bonifay, Fla., April 17.—A mob entered the jail, took John Dukes, white, from his cell, carried him to the public square, hanged him to a tree and then riddled his body with bullets. Hurrying to his rescue, sheriff Eason and a deputy were severely injured when their automobile ran wild and turned turtle.

Dukes was locked up on the charge of killing E. A. Walker, his neighbor. They had quarreled about a business matter. They met on the highway Saturday and quarreled, Dukes finally shooting and killing Walker. Dukes was hurried to jail, where it was thought he would be safe.

STRIKERS IN SPRINGFIELD RIOT.

Springfield, April 17.—A squad of police was rushed to Outing Park today to quell a riot started by about 400 striking shovelers. The rioters were dispersed. The strikers were formerly employed by a contracting firm that was operating on improvements in the Outing Park district.

tunity to arrange their affairs before being expelled.

There was nothing in the dispatch to indicate whether or not the order of expulsion was aimed only at Americans.

The dispatch also said that James Linn Rogers, agent of the United States government, would present on Monday new representations from the American government in regard to American troops operating in Mexico.

$2,000,000 DAMAGE.

Private advices received here today tended to confirm the report that the $2,000,000 American mining properties at Parral were completely destroyed several days before a detachment of American troops were attacked there.

Merrill Scott, a mining engineer and son of General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, who had been employed at Parrall, has been reported safe on the border. He left Parral before the anti-American sentiment there culminated in the demolition of the mining properties, the advices stated.

Doubt was cast on the Villa death report from the first discussion of the matter today. United States army officers openly declared it merely a ruse to bring about the early retirement of the American troops from Mexico.

General Bell, at El paso, said he did not credit it.

General Funston, at San Antonio, declared he "wouldn't be fooled" in the matter of identifying any body the Mexicans might produce.

Funston said he could identify Villa positively by the bandit's "teeth and hair."

So far the entire story of the discovery of the bandit's body comes solely from Mexican sources.

General Pershing and his commanders in Mexico are silent on the matter.

Consul Letcher at Chihuahua has been ordered to view the body, said to be en route to that city, and orders have been issued that the identification for the United States government must be absolute and authentic in every way. In this connection General Scott, chief of the general staff, and the one American soldier who knows Villa best, said today that this identification can be made no matter how badly the body is mutilated.

"Villa bears many well-known physical characteristics that it would be impossible to substitute another body for his," said the General. "If it is Villa that is dead it will be easy to determine."

Officials said that if Villa was dead the American expedition will be recalled at once. If not the pursuit will be continued while the State Department takes up with Carranza the question raised by him of limiting the character of the punitive expedition or the fixing of a time limit for the recall of the troops.

Although the State Department authorizes the statement that American troops will be withdrawn from Mexico at once if Villa is dead, the whole situation hinges on the little word "if."

For more than a week now Carranzistas have been permitted circulating accounts of their prowess, all calculated in the opinion of many officials, especially those at the War Department, to back up the request for the withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico made in General Carranza's name a few days ago. In the view of many officials who have been checking up these Carranza reports with subsequent developments, the report of Villa's death is but a natural sequel to the advices which lately have been coming out of Mexico.

One official at the War Department pointed out that the original Carranza account of the attempted massacre of American forces at Parral was completely at variance with the accounts later received from other sources.

Carranza, in reporting at Parral laid the blame altogether on the American forces for entering the town and in the same breath urged Senor Arrendondo, Mexican ambassador designate here, to use every argument to persuade the American government to withdraw the troops. Then came subsequent reports that the Americans merely went into Parral unarmed to purchase supplies and that they went in even with the approval of the Carranza commander there only to be turned upon.

"The motive for all of these stories is evident," declared this officer. "If Carranza can hoodwink the American government into the belief that Villa is dead he has won his point. But it seems to me that the State Department has gone as far as it is warranted in going on at present if it has consented to treat with Carranza as to the time and the geographical limits of the expedition.

TROOPS SHOULD STAY.

"If Villa is dead, in my opinion, the American government could very properly propose that the American expedition must continue until his bandits are run down.

"If Carranza really desires to cooperate with the American forces he can demonstrate it by more tangible aid than he has yet extended. The American forces should remain in Mexico until either the American troops or the Carranzista forces have captured Villa."

These are the claims put forward by the Mexican officials:

That Villa, in one of his skirmishes during his flight before the Pershing advance squadrons, had been wounded in the knee, developing blood poisoning.

That lack of medical attention resulted in the bandit leader's death.

That he was secretly buried by his followers near Cusihuiriachic.

That one of the bandits, captured by Carranza forces, gave up the secret of the burial spot when promised his own life if he would tell.

That the body was dug out of its grave and was today on a special train en route to Chihuahua City.

This last claim of Villa's death is far more circumstantial than that spread some time ago.

REVEAL CARRANZA TREACHERY.

Most important in the actual news from the Villa expedition was the official report that several hundred Carranza troops had engaged in the battle against the American cavalry at Parral.

The treachery of the Carranzistas is not only established by this report, but is shown to be particularly atrocious.

The American troops had retreated from the town, after being attacked by a mob of civilians. The troops took position behind an embankment. Then came the sortie by the Carranza soldiers, 300 or more. They flanked the Americans and began an enfilading fire. Two Americans were killed and six wounded. Major Tompkins, commanding the Americans, was slightly wounded. Forty Carranza soldiers, including a major, were killed.

Whether this Carranza attack is to be made the subject of official inquiry by the United States President Wilson has not announced.

Pershing Wires Details of Carranza Treachery During Parral Battle

By International News Service.

Washington, April 17.—Secretary of War Baker gave out a dispatch from General Funston, stating that he had just received from the Consul at Chihuahua, a report on the Parral incident from Brigadier-General Pershing, dated April 15, 1 p. m., directed to General Funston. The Pershing message reads:

My telegram of yesterday confirmed. Full report from Colonel W. C. Brown, Tenth Cavalry, and Major Frank Tompkins, Thirteenth Cavalry, this morning.

Major Tompkins' column, Troop K, Thirteenth Cavalry, and Troop M, Thirteenth Cavalry, entered Parral 11 a. m. 12th inst. Frank Tompkins preceding, was cordially received by high civil and military officials. Military commander, General Lozano, accompanied Major Tompkins on his way to camp.

In the outskirts of town groups of native troops and civilians, following, jeered, threw stones and fired on column.

Major Tompkins took a defensive position north of railroad, but was soon flanked by native troops and forced to further retire.

About 300 Carranza troops joined in pursuit, and Major Tompkins continued to withdraw to avoid further complications until he reached Santa Cruz, eight miles from Parral.

Fighting ceased about fifteen miles from town.

Major Frank Tompkins deserves great praise for his forbearance.

General Lozano attempted to control his men when first began, but failed (?).

Colonel Brown, with Major Charles Young, Tenth Cavalry, and squadron of Tenth Cavalry, eight miles away when notified, and joined Major Frank Tompkins 7 p. m.

Reported privately forty Mexicans killed, all soldiers, including one major. One civilian wounded.

Americans killed, two; wounded, six; missing, one.

Major Frank Tompkins slightly wounded in foot (?) by spent bullet.

Major R. L. Howze, Eleventh Cavalry, arrived Parral yesterday from San Borja and Balleza, having had several skirmishes with Villa men. One man killed, two wounded.

ARREDONDO ASSURED BY GARCIA VILLA'S BODY HAS BEEN FOUND

By H. H. STANSBURY.

El Paso, April 17.—Every Carranza garrison in Northern Mexico is celebrating the unconfirmed report that Pancho Villa is dead and that his body has been found. Consul Garcia and General Gavira, the Carranza commander at Juarez, received the report as early as 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

At this writing neither of the Mexican officials had received any confirmatory report of the earlier rumor. Notwithstanding this, Consul Garcia last night sent this message to Ambassador Arredondo at Washington:

Although it has not been officially confirmed, you can be assured that the body of Villa has been found fifty miles south of San Antonio. It was interred at that place and discovered by a Villista colonel whom General Cabazos captured. The corpse is expected to reach Cusihuiriachic. It is being brought there by the forces of General Cabazos, which are commanded by General Carranza.

When the report was given this semi-official status a formal offer was made to Consul Garcia and General Gavira by the International News Service to start a special train from Juarez at once to Cusihuiriachic with a correspondent who could make certain the identification. The offer provided that the Mexican authorities could also send on the special train three representatives of their own.

OPERATOR STARTED REPORT.

The offer was taken under consideration.

Investigation of the report of Villa's death shows that it originated through a telegraphic conversation carried on early Sunday morning by the Mexican operators at San Antonio and Madera, on the Northwestern Railway.

The operator at San Antonio is reported to have told his friend at Madera that Villa's body was brought there from the vicinity of Cusi. The Madera operator relayed the message to the railway dispatcher at Juarez.

This information was given at once to General Gavira and Consul Garcia, who posted it on bulletin boards in Juarez. The San Antonio operator is reported to have told the Madera telegrapher that Colonel Carlos Carranza, nephew of the First Chief, was en route to San Antonio with the bandit's corpse.

Villa's grave, it was said, was revealed to the Carranza forces by a Villista colonel who was captured by General Cabazos.

BELL DISCREDITS STORY.

General George Bell, Jr., commander at Fort Bliss, placed no credence in the report. He had been in communication with Consul Letcher at Chihuahua. He said Letcher had heard nothing concerning the death of Villa or the finding of the body.

It was the official opinion of General Bell that the report was being circulated by the Mexican authorities for reasons best known to themselves.

At Columbus, Major Sample announced that no reports from the front mentioned the name of Villa. The corps of correspondents with the expeditionary forces are now at San Antonio, one of the points from which the report comes. Such messages as have been received from correspondents make no mention of the Villa story.

'I'd Know Villa by Teeth and Hair'—Funston

By International News Service.

San Antonio, Texas, April 17.—General Funston has received no confirmation of the report of Villa's death. He says the body can be easily identified if it is really Villa's.

"I could not be fooled about it," said General Funston. "I would know the body of Villa, however mutilated it might be, by the teeth and hair, and no other body could be passed off on me as that of the bandit."

REPORT 11 U. S. TROOPERS KILLED IN BATTLE WITH MEXICAN NATIVES

By H. H. STANSBURY.

El Paso, April 17.—Colonel W. C. Brown of the Tenth Cavalry has requested, through Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, that an aeroplane be dispatched immediately to bring in a report of an encounter Thursday night.

The information Colonel Brown is believed to be endeavoring to report refers to an engagement between his forces and Mexican natives at Maturana. The International News Service correspondent at Chihuahua City heard of this fight through Constitutionalist officials Friday night. He was not permitted to send the information to the border and took the train which left Chihuahua Sunday morning.

The correspondent, who has arrived here, said:

"I was informed that Colonel Brown retreated from Parral to the southeast, but was forced to make a stand at Maturana to defend his men. In the fighting that followed, I was told, eleven Americans were killed."

BANDITS ATTACK TRAIN.

The statement of the correspondent, who is thoroughly reliable, is not being sent out as official, or as having been confirmed by the Mexican authorities, from whom it was obtained. It is, however, the latest as well as the most authentic news from the extreme advance, where the American troops are known to have been in distress.

General Pershing has reported to General Funston that a motor truck train carrying aeroplanes was attacked by forty Villista bandits on Friday night, fifteen miles north of Satevo.

General Pershing was in command of the motor truck train at the time of the attack. There were no American losses. The Mexicans were driven off and one of their number was killed.

The troops at Columbus and all along the border are still held under orders, which will permit them to move on less than an hour's notice. All rolling stock of the El Paso & Southwestern Railroad is being held subject to emergency orders.

ESCAPE MOB'S VENGEANCE.

The mining properties of the American Smelting & Refining Company and the San Francisco Del Oro, southwest of Parral, escaped the vengeance of Mexican mobs, according to a Spanish merchant who has reached Juarez from Santa Barbara. He said the damage to the Alvrado Mining and Milling Company, the Compania Agricola, about two miles west of Parral and the Parral and Durango Railroad office was smaller than first reported.

"I was in Parral the day after the fight," the man said. "There was a bitter feeling against the Americans, but the people were sobered by the fight. It is a strong Villista country where the soldiers are now."

El Paso, April 17.—Two American women who had been teaching in a Christian mission school in Parral, arrived at the border from Parral with the first eye-witness story of the skirmish between the American troops and the mob in that town on Wednesday. As they intend to return and take charge of their schools as soon as the present trouble is over, they would not permit their names to be used, but gave a description of the events leading up to the trouble at Parral.

The principal of the school, who is staying at a local hotel, said of the Parral affair:

"It was noon last Wednesday and our native children were just quitting our school, which is on the Plaza in San Juan de Dios, when the American troops, covered with desert dust and looking as if they were worn out, rode into the plaza upon which our schools face. There were more than 100 of them—I didn't count them—and they rode into the plaza fully armed and with their rifles in their holsters on the saddle. They dismounted in the plaza in front of our school and the men sat down or reclined on their saddles as if they were all saddle weary. A few of them went off to buy provisions, leaving their side arms with the remainder.

SAW MOB TOGETHER.

"We watched them from a window of the school, and they made no effort to establish camp, but acted as if they had just stopped for a rest. They came into the plaza from the direction of the Mexican Central station, and rode down the narrow street single file.

"We heard shouts on La Prieta Hill, and looking out of our upstairs windows saw a great crowd of men, women and children gathering there and waving a ragged Mexican flag. We did not see the mob again until after the soldiers had started back the way they had come."

Carranza Loses Control of Men

By L. V. B. RUCKER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

San Antonio, April 17.—Carranza's leaders have proved themselves incapable of controlling their own men. This has been definitely shown, it was asserted here today, by the attack on American troops at Parral.

While American officers at Fort Sam Houston gave the Carranza officers at Parral the benefit of the doubt and refused to say that the invitation to the United States soldiers under Major Tompkins to enter Parral was a deliberate trap, nevertheless the official report showing Carranzista troops took part in the fighting is evidence that the enlisted men in the de facto government's army could not be controlled.

"TOMMY" TOMPKINS HERO.

The fact that forty Mexican soldiers were killed in the attack which cost the lives of two American troopers shows that there was no break in the ranks of the American soldiers when they fought their way out of the town, and engaged in a running battle that lasted for fifteen miles.

Major "Tommy" Tompkins, hero of the pursuit that sent Villa flying across the border at Columbus, was also the dominant figure in the Parral battle. Though wounded by one of the first volleys fired by the Mexicans he stayed at the head of his men and directed the operations that saved the force from extinction.

Not only did Major Tompkins effect his retreat in brilliant manner by taking advantage of every natural protection, but he also succeeded in taking with him his dead and wounded.

The news of the Parral battle and the fact that the Americans were forced to retreat before the Mexican troops is traveling through Mexico like wild fire today. Mexican reports, of course, disregard the facts that the Americans were far outnumbered. The news is already having its effect. Reports reached here today that anti-American rioting has broken out at Chihuahua City. Similar news from other points is expected shortly.

OFFICERS SKEPTICAL.

In the meantime American army officers are frankly skeptical of the official Mexican reports of Villa's death. If these are part of a ruse to get the Americans out of Mexico, however, the United States military leaders will have "to be shown."

General Pershing, who has met Villa, will view the body which the Carranzistas claim to be that of the bandit chieftain and if it comes to a showdown Major-General Funston will do the same.

"I have seen Villa," said General Funston today, "and I believe I would know his body even though mutilated, if not too long buried.

"I do not know his battle scars, but I certainly could not mistake the jagged teeth and the wavy black hair. Villa was also of unusual height for a Mexican, standing six feet odd."

A $100 silver cup for the best baby in Greater Boston.

Ten gold medals for the next ten best babies.

Fifteen silver medals for the following fifteen, and

Twenty-five bronze medals for another fine group of babies.

These are the inducements offered by the AMERICAN. Every parent owes it to "King Baby" to give him a chance to win one of the prizes.

A CHANCE TO HELP.

Besides an opportunity to win a prize for the baby, the AMERICAN is asking the parents of perfect babies to help those other mothers, who are groping for information, by telling what made the perfect baby.

Not only is the AMERICAN interested in discovering this secret of babyhood, but thousands of mothers all over New England are most anxious to find out for themselves what is needed to bring their babies up to the standard.

There are boards of health of forty towns at least which also would like to know the secret to help them to bring down the death rate of young babies.

A LESSON IN EVERY BABY.

Here is your opportunity—you who have raised your infant in a perfect way—to tell about it and thus help spread the "Better Baby" gospel.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, chairman of the Boston Board of Health, is watching this baby contest with intense interest. He is one of the judges, and when the secret of perfect babies is learned through the AMERICAN he may be assisted in finding ways to eliminate many causes of infant mortality.

Every one of fifty-one babies to be awarded a prize will preach a sermon all of his own from personal experience.

It may be that some of the fortunate babies who win medals are healthy, strong and beautiful in spite of neglect and indifference on the part of mothers, but that will not be the case with the majority. It will be found that they have been reared after the most approved rules—fed with the best food, dressed as babies should be dressed, exercised and developed properly.

BABY WILL PROVE THE RULES.

Many letters received from mothers tell how their babies are given plenty of fresh air, even to sleeping out of doors, are never humored when they are unreasonable, and are controlled when wilful.

Here is a splendid chance for the mothers of Greater Boston to become teachers. They need not mount a platform and say: "Ladies and gentlemen, in order to bring up a perfect baby you should read many books and listen to many lectures." In Boston mothers with babies who have won prizes may say through the AMERICAN:

"Ladies and gentlemen—Here you see a baby who has won a medal because of its excellent qualities. I brought him up. I know everything that has happened to him from the time he was born. You may be interested to learn that this baby was nursed for nine months, that it spent part of each day out of doors"—but we must wait for the rest till the prizes are awarded.

SEND IN QUESTIONS.

At the present time, if any mothers would like to know what kind of clothing is best for the baby, what sort of bed brings the most peaceful sleep, how baby may be protected from flies and disease germs, when and what kind of food he should have, what should be done to give him exercise, where and how he should get his fresh air, how he should be bathed, when weaned, what to do to cure his ailments—send the questions to this office, in care of Dr. Mary T. Moore, who will answer as soon as possible.

If you think your babies are worth more than set down by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University, who stated that the average baby is worth ninety dollars—then it may pay you to study some of the scientific rules for the raising of babies.

WILLIAM E. DOYLE, FLORIST, IS DEAD

William E. Doyle, widely known throughout New England as a florist and for many years a leader in the business and political life of Cambridge, is dead at his home, Kilsyth road, Brookline. He had been out of active business life for a little over a year, but his general health continued good to within a few days.

Mr. Doyle was born in Roxbury, May 23, 1843.

CARRANZA OFFICIALS REPORT VILLA DEAD OF BLOOD POISONING; AMERICAN ARMY MEN SKEPTICAL

TO WITHDRAW TROOPS IF BANDIT MET DEATH

tunity to arrange their affairs before being expelled.

There was nothing in the dispatch to indicate whether or not the order of expulsion was aimed only at Americans.

The dispatch also said that James Linn Rogers, agent of the United States government, would present on Monday new representations from the American government in regard to American troops operating in Mexico.

$2,000,000 DAMAGE.

Private advices received here today tended to confirm the report that the $2,000,000 American mining properties at Parral were completely destroyed several days before a detachment of American troops were attacked there.

Merrill Scott, a mining engineer and son of General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, who had been employed at Parrall, has been reported safe on the border. He left Parral before the anti-American sentiment there culminated in the demolition of the mining properties, the advices stated.

Doubt was cast on the Villa death report from the first discussion of the matter today. United States army officers openly declared it merely a ruse to bring about the early retirement of the American troops from Mexico.

General Bell, at El paso, said he did not credit it.

General Funston, at San Antonio, declared he "wouldn't be fooled" in the matter of identifying any body the Mexicans might produce.

Funston said he could identify Villa positively by the bandit's "teeth and hair."

So far the entire story of the discovery of the bandit's body comes solely from Mexican sources.

General Pershing and his commanders in Mexico are silent on the matter.

Consul Letcher at Chihuahua has been ordered to view the body, said to be en route to that city, and orders have been issued that the identification for the United States government must be absolute and authentic in every way. In this connection General Scott, chief of the General Staff, and the one American soldier who knows Villa best, said today that this identification can be made, no matter how badly the body is mutilated.

"Villa has so many well-known physical characteristics that it would be impossible to substitute another body for his," said the General. "If it is Villa that is dead it will be easy to determine."

Officials said that if Villa was dead the American expedition will be recalled at once. If not the pursuit will be continued while the State Department takes up with Carranza the question raised by him of limiting the character of the punitive expedition of the fixing of a time limit for the recall of the troops.

Although the State Department authorizes the statement that American troops will be withdrawn from Mexico at once if Villa is dead, the whole situation hinges on the little word "if."

For more than a week now Carranzistas have been persistent in circulating accounts of their prowess, all calculated in the opinion of many officials, especially those at the War Department, to back up the request for the withdrawal of the American forces from Mexico made in General Carranza's name a few days ago. In the view of many officials who have been checking up these Carranza reports with subsequent developments, the report of Villa's death is but a natural sequel to the advices which lately have been coming out of Mexico.

One official at the War Department pointed out that the original Carranza account of the attempted massacre of American forces at Parral was completely at variance with the accounts later received from other sources.

Carranza, in reporting at Parral, laid the blame altogether on the American forces for entering the town and in the same breath urged Senor Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate here, to use every argument to persuade the American government to withdraw the troops. Then came subsequent reports that the Americans merely went into Parral unarmed to purchase supplies and that they went in even with the approval of the Carranza commander there, only to be turned upon.

"The motive for all of these stories is evident," declared this official. "If Carranza can hoodwink the American government into the belief that Villa is dead he has won his point. But it seems to me that the State Department has gone as far as it is warranted in going on at present if it has consented to treat with Carranza as to the time and the geographical limits of the expedition.

TROOPS SHOULD STAY.

"If Villa is dead, in my opinion, the American government could very properly propose that the American expedition must continue until his bandits are run down.

"If Carranza really desires to cooperate with the American forces he can demonstrate it by more tangible aid than he has yet extended. The American forces should remain in Mexico until either the American troops or the Carranzista forces have captured Villa."

These are the claims put forward by the Mexican officials:

That Villa, in one of his skirmishes during his flight before the Pershing advance squadrons, had been wounded in the knee, developing blood poisoning.

That lack of medical attention resulted in the bandit leader's death.

That he was secretly buried by his followers near Cusihuiriachic.

That one of the bandits, captured by Carranza forces, gave up the secret of the burial spot when promised his own life if he would tell.

That the body was dug out of its grave and was today on a special train en route to Chihuahua City.

This last claim of Villa's death is far more circumstantial than that spread some time ago.

REVEAL CARRANZA TREACHERY.

Most important in the actual news from the Villa expedition was the official report that several hundred Carranza troops had engaged in the battle against the American cavalry at Parral.

The treachery of the Carranzistas is not only established by this report, but is shown to be particularly atrocious.

The American troops had retreated from the town, after being attacked by a mob of civilians. The troops took position behind an embankment. Then came the sortie by the Carranza soldiers, 300 or more. They flanked the Americans and began an enfilading fire. Two Americans were killed and six wounded. Major Tompkins, commanding the Americans, was slightly wounded. Forty Carranza soldiers, including a major, were killed.

Whether this Carranza attack is to be made the subject of official inquiry by the United States President Wilson has not announced.

Pershing Wires Details of Carranza Treachery During Parral Battle

By International News Service.

Washington, April 17.—Secretary of War Baker gave out a dispatch from General Funston, stating that he had just received from the Consul at Chihuahua, a report on the Parral incident from Brigadier-General Pershing, dated April 15, 1 p. m., directed to General Funston. The Pershing message reads:

My telegram of yesterday confirmed. Full report from Colonel W. C. Brown, Tenth Cavalry, and Major Frank Tompkins, Fourteenth Cavalry, this morning.

Major Tompkins' column, Troop K, Thirteenth Cavalry, and Troop M, Thirteenth Cavalry, entered Parral 11 a. m., 12th inst. Frank Tompkins, preceding, was cordially received by high civil and military officials. Military commander, General Lozano, accompanied Major Tompkins on his way to camp.

In the outskirts of town groups of native troops and civilians, following, jeered, threw stones and fired on column.

Major Tompkins took a defensive position north of railroad, but was soon flanked by native troops and forced to further retire.

About 300 Carranza troops joined in pursuit, and Major Tompkins continued to withdraw to avoid further complications until he reached Santa Cruz, eight miles from Parral.

Fighting ceased about fifteen miles from town.

Major Frank Tompkins deserves great praise for his forbearance.

General Lozano attempted to control his men when first began, but failed.

Colonel Brown, with Major Charles Young, Tenth Cavalry, one squadron of Tenth Cavalry, eight miles away when notified, and joined Major Frank Tompkins 2 p. m.

Reported privately forty Mexicans killed, all soldiers, including one major. One civilian wounded.

Americans killed, two; wounded, six; missing, one.

Major Frank Tompkins slightly wounded in foot (?) by spent bullet.

Major R. L. Howze, Eleventh Cavalry, arrived Parral yesterday from San Borja and Balleza, having had several skirmishes with Villa men. One man killed, two wounded.

ARREDONDO ASSURED BY GARCIA VILLA'S BODY HAS BEEN FOUND

By H. H. STANSBURY.

El Paso, April 17.—Every Carranza garrison in Northern Mexico is celebrating the unconfirmed report that Pancho Villa is dead and that his body has been found. Consul Garcia and General Gavira, the Carranza commander at Juarez, received the report as early as 11 o'clock Sunday morning.

At this writing neither of the Mexican officials had received any confirmatory report of the earlier rumor. Notwithstanding this, Consul Garcia last night sent this message to Ambassador Arredondo at Washington:

Although it has not been officially confirmed, you can be assured that the body of Villa has been found fifty miles south of San Antonio. It was interred at that place and discovered by a Villista colonel whom General Cabazos captured. The corpse is expected to reach Cusihuiriachic. It is being brought there by the forces of General Cabazos, which are commanded by General Carranza.

When the report was given this semi-official status a formal offer was made to Consul Garcia and General Gavira by the International News Service to start a special train from Juarez at once to Cusihuiriachic with a correspondent who could make certain the identification. The offer provided that the Mexican authorities could also send on the special train three representatives of their own.

OPERATOR STARTED REPORT.

The offer was taken under consideration.

Investigation of the report of Villa's death shows that it originated through a telegraphic conversation carried on early Sunday morning by the Mexican operators at San Antonio and Madera, on the Northwestern Railway.

The operator at San Antonio is reported to have told his friend at Madera that Villa's body was brought there from the vicinity of Cusi. The Madera operator relayed the message to the railway dispatcher at Juarez.

This information was given at once to General Gavira and Consul Garcia, who posted it on bulletin boards in Juarez. The San Antonio operator is reported to have told the Madera telegrapher that Colonel Carlos Carranza, nephew of the First Chief, was en route to San Antonio with the bandit's corpse.

Villa's grave, it was said, was revealed to the Carranza forces by a Villista colonel who was captured by General Cabazos.

BELL DISCREDITS STORY.

General George Bell, Jr., commander at Fort Bliss, placed no credence in the report. He had been in communication with Consul Letcher at Chihuahua. He said Letcher had heard nothing concerning the death of Villa or the finding of the body.

It was the official opinion of General Bell that the report was being circulated by the Mexican authorities for reasons best known to themselves.

At Columbus, Major Semple announced that no reports from the front mentioned the name of Villa. The corps of correspondents with the expeditionary forces are now at San Antonio, one of the points from which the report comes. Such messages as have been received from correspondents make no mention of the Villa story.

'I'd Know Villa by Teeth and Hair'—Funston

By International News Service.

San Antonio, Texas, April 17.—General Funston has received no confirmation of the report of Villa's death. He says the body can be easily identified if it is really Villa's.

"I could not be fooled about it," said General Funston. "I would know the body of Villa," however mutilated it might be, by the teeth and hair, and no other body could be passed off on me as that of the bandit."

REPORT 11 U. S. TROOPERS KILLED IN BATTLE WITH MEXICAN NATIVES

By H. H. STANSBURY.

El Paso, April 17.—Colonel W. C. Brown of the Tenth Cavalry has requested, through Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, that an aeroplane be dispatched immediately to bring in a report of an encounter Thursday night.

The information Colonel Brown is believed to be endeavoring to report refers to an engagement between his forces and Mexican natives at Maturana. The International News Service correspondent at Chihuahua City heard of this fight through Constitutionalist officials Friday night. He was not permitted to send the information to the border and took the train which left Chihuahua Sunday morning.

The correspondent, who has arrived here, said:

"I was informed that Colonel Brown retreated from Parral to the southeast, but was forced to make a stand at Maturana to defend his men. In the fighting that followed, I was told, eleven Americans were killed."

BANDITS ATTACK TRAIN.

The statement of the correspondent, who is thoroughly reliable, is not being sent out as official, or as having been confirmed by the Mexican authorities, from whom it was obtained. It is, however, the latest as well as the most authentic news from the extreme advance, where the American troops are known to have been in distress.

General Pershing has reported to General Funston that a motor truck train carrying aeroplanes was attacked by forty Villista bandits on Friday night, fifteen miles north of Satevo.

General Pershing was in command of the motor truck train at the time of the attack. There were no American losses. The Mexicans were driven off and one of their number was killed.

The troops at Columbus and all along the border are still held under orders, which will permit them to move on less than an hour's notice. All rolling stock of the El Paso & Southwestern Railroad is being held subject to emergency orders.

ESCAPE MOB'S VENGEANCE.

The mining properties of the American Smelting & Refining Company and the San Francisco Del Oro, southwest of Parral, escaped the vengeance of Mexican mobs, according to a Spanish merchant who has reached Juarez from Santa Barbara. He said the damage to the Alvrado Mining and Milling Company, the Compania Agricola, about two miles west of Parral and the Parral and Durango Railroad office was smaller than first reported.

"I was in Parral the day after the fight," the man said. "There was a bitter feeling against the Americans, but the people were sobered by the fight. It is a strong Villista country where the soldiers are now."

El Paso, April 17.—Two American women who had been teaching in a Christian mission school in Parral, arrived at the border from Parral with the first eye-witness story of the skirmish between the American troops and the mob in that town on Wednesday. As they intend to return and take charge of their schools as soon as the present trouble is over, they would not permit their names to be used, but gave a description of the events leading up to the trouble at Parral.

The principal of the school, who is staying at a local hotel, said of the Parral affair:

"It was noon last Wednesday and our native children were just quitting our school, which is on the Plaza le San Juan de Dios, when the American troops, covered with desert dust and looking as if they were worn out, rode into the plaza upon which our schools face. There were more than 100 of them—I didn't count them—and they rode into the plaza fully armed and with their rifles in their holsters on the saddle. They dismounted in the plaza in front of our school and the men sat down or reclined on their saddles as if they were all saddle weary. A few of them went off to buy provisions, leaving their side arms with the remainder.

SAW MOB TOGETHER.

"We watched them from a window of the school, and they made no effort to establish camp, but acted as if they had just stopped for a rest. They came into the plaza from the direction of the Mexican Central station, and rode down the narrow street single file.

"We heard shouts on La Prieta Hill, and looking out of our upstairs windows saw a great crowd of men, women and children gathering there and waving a tagged Mexican flag. We did not see the mob again until after the soldiers had started back the way they had come.

Carranza Loses Control of Men

By L. V. B. RUCKER,

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

San Antonio, April 17.—Carranza's leaders have proved themselves incapable of controlling their own men. This has been definitely shown, it was asserted here today, by the attack on American troops at Parral.

While American officers at Fort Sam Houston gave the Carranza officers at Parral the benefit of the doubt and refused to say that the invitation to the United States soldiers under Major Tompkins to enter Parral was a deliberate trap, nevertheless the official report showing Carranzista troops took part in the fighting is evidence that the enlisted men in the de facto government's army could not be controlled.

"TOMMY" TOMPKINS HERO.

The fact that forty Mexican soldirs were killed in the attack which cost the lives of two American troopers shows that there was no break in the ranks of the American soldiers when they fought their way out of the town, and engaged in a running battle that lasted for fifteen miles.

Major "Tommy" Tompkins, hero of the pursuit that sent Villa flying across the border at Columbus, was also the dominant figure in the Parral battle. Though wounded by one of the first volleys fired by the Mexicans he stayed at the head of his men and directed the operations that saved the force from extinction.

Not only did Major Tompkins effect his retreat in brilliant manner by taking advantage of every natural protection, but he also succeeded in taking with him his dead and wounded.

The news of the Parral battle and the fact that the Americans were forced to retreat before the Mexican troops is traveling through Mexico like wild fire today. Mexican reports, of course, disregard the facts that the Americans were far outnumbered. The news is already having its effect. Reports reached here today that anti-American rioting has broken out at Chihuahua City. Similar news from other points is expected shortly.

OFFICERS SKEPTICAL.

In the meantime American army officers are frankly skeptical of the official Mexican reports of Villa's death. If these are part of a ruse to get the Americans out of Mexico, however, the United States military leaders will have "to be shown."

General Pershing, who has met Villa, will view the body which the Carranzistas claim to be that of the bandit chieftain and if it comes to a showdown Major-General Funston will do the same.

"I have seen Villa," said General Funston today, "and I believe I would know his body even though mutilated, if not too long buried.

"I do not know his battle scars, but I certainly could not mistake the jagged teeth and the wavy black hair. Villa was also of unusual height for a Mexican, standing six feet odd."

Mr. Reader—

We know that you enjoyed your Sunday American yesterday. We feel sure that the product satisfied you because we know that in news, in pictures, in contributions by world famous writers, in home and housekeeping features, in fashions, in humor, in cartoons and comics, in automobile specials, in dramatic news, in sports, in business articles, in fact, in everything that goes into the making of a well rounded Sunday newspaper it excelled.

DANSEUSE QUIT, SAYS WITNESS

Xenia Makletzova, premier danseuse of the Ballet Russe, was possessed to a marked degree by the so-called artistic temperament, according to Sergei Grigorieff, general manager of the ballet.

Grigorieff, who was the first witness today in the continued hearing of the cross suits brought by Mme. Makletzova and Sergei Diaghileff, declared that the dancer was "generally dissatisfied."

The witness said he was present in New York when an agreement was reached by Makletzova and Diaghileff, in which she was to dance certain dances, but when the contract was changed she refused to sign it.

He said that one night the danseuse suddenly left the opera house five minutes before the curtain went up, and when found at her apartments refused to return until she received $105 salary for the past week.

On a Saturday afternoon she agreed to dance with a certain partner, he said, but failed to appear for rehearsal, and sent letters saying she would not dance.

Before a matinee, although Makletzova was on the stage and dressed in costume, she declared she would not dance with the partner chosen for her, and left the opera house, according to the witness.

He said Diaghileff talked with her and told her she must dance, but she replied she would not and left five minutes before the performance. She did not return that night and only made her apearance two days later, although a lawyer had added his entreaties to the others.

The witness said he did not know that the dancer had injured her leg, as she never told him about it. He said that the principal woman dancer in the "Enchanted Princess" was on the stage but three or four minutes; in the "Bird of Fire" about fifteen minutes and in "Armide House" was on the stage during the entire performance, but only about fifteen minutes was actually devoted to dancing.

Cross examined by E. C. Stone, who with Joseph Michelman appears for the dancer, the witness said that she wanted a contract signed by Diaghileff himself. Referring to the additional writing on the contract, he said that it was done by him, when he wrote in the name of other ballets. He said that he had been ill in New York and that Diaghileff is now ill at his apartments.

ELEONORA SEARS IN RAILROAD WRECK

Miss Eleonora Sears, according to dispatches received here today, narrowly escaped injury when the train in which she was returning from California to Boston crashed into two oil cars near Cleveland, O., not far from the scene of the recent triple collision at Amherst, in which several persons were killed.

Miss Sears and the party with whom she was travelling escaped with shakeup and shock. All the windows on one side of their car were broken and plates were wrenched off.

The Twentieth Century Limited, on which they were riding, hit the tank cars near the drawbridge at the Cuyahoga River, half a mile west of the union station. The oil cars, which had been switched to a siding, had rolled back till they projected over the main line.

The projected cars sideswiped the entire length of the passenger train, ripping off sheathing and breaking glass.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart, which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve, but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick, and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.—Advertisement.

New Bedford Husband Seeking Here for Wife Who Vanished April 1

Mrs. Jacob Etienne, lost New Bedford woman, and her eight-year-old son.

Jacob Etienne of New Bedford today began a new search for his young and pretty wife, who disappeared in Boston, Saturday, April 1, after announcing her intention of taking a train for New Bedford.

Mrs. Etienne, who was employed by the Vasil Steam Systems Company of Devonshire street, was to have been the chief witness against Mrs. Lida Glenerne of Roxbury street, Dorchester, who was acquitted of the charge of obtaining money under false pretences from Mrs. Frederic Holbrook of Beacon street.

Etienne, who is a Frenchman and unfamiliar with the customs of this country, is nearly distracted by his wife's continued absence and believes that she is being held prisoner somewhere in Boston.

Mrs. Holbrook is much interested in the case and is doing all she can to assist in unraveling the mystery. Mrs. Glenerne says she has no information regarding Mrs. Etienne.

Etienne said today that he is positive his wife would not remain away without communicating with him. They have been married nine years, have a boy eight years of age, and a good home at No. 60 Bridge street, New Bedford.

Mrs. Etienne, who for the past six months has been engaged in selling stock for corporations, is also said to be possessed of considerable literary ability.

Her business took her about New England, and as she was unable to return to their home each night, she had a telephone installed in order to talk with her husband.

Mrs. Etienne, according to her husband, left New Bedford on Wednesday, March 29, planning to return on Friday. On Thursday she wrote from Boston that she would be home Saturday afternoon.

Friday night, the woman occupied a room at the Y. W. C. U., and on Saturday morning went to the office of the Vasil Steam Systems Company and collected her commissions. At the office she stated that she intended to take the 3 o'clock train for New Bedford. Then she dropped out of sight.

MAYOR STILL HELD INDOORS BY COLD

Layer-Cake Idea of Life Is Wrong, Says John D., Jr.

By International News Service.

New York, April 17.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., spoke to 250 men and boys of the Young Men's Bible class of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church. The financier declared that Jesus Christ should come before considerations of business or the amassing of a fortune.

"Religion needs to be interwoven into a man's life and into his general makeup," said Mr. Rockefeller. "Some people think life is like a layer-cake—a layer of ability, some jelly, then a layer of character and then a layer of religion. This decision does not admit God into a man's full life. It is only a small part of his life.

"There are other men who think that at some later time they will come into the full fellowship of God and the church. They want to wait until they get well off in business and then take up the church. Jesus Christ does not want to be taken as a luxury. He is a necessity that we cannot get on without.

"Religion is something that we ought to apply to our every-day life. It is something more than mere going to church. It is something that is practical."

Midget Clown Marries Midget Snake Charmer

New York, April 17.—While the lions roared and the sacred geese quacked and the steam calliope softly played "Oh, Promise Me," Joseph Francis Sloan, midget clown, and Lizzie Reineking, midget snake charmer, were married in Madison Square Garden at 2 p. m. The couple are with Barnum & Bailey's circus, which is playing there, and the attendants at the wedding were the freaks.

The ceremony was performed in the centre ring of the arena by the Rev. C. F. Daniels, a Baptist clergyman. When the calliope began to play the wedding march from "Lohengrin" the bridal procession left the circus pad room.

First in the line were the bride and the bridegroom. She is four feet high and weighs sixty-nine pounds. The bridegroom is two inches taller than his bride and weighs seventy-six pounds.

Hugo, the nine-foot French giant, was best man and followed the midgets with Cleve Hill, the giantess, who is seven feet and six inches tall. Maxine, the snake charmer and Mlle. Clifford, the sword swallower, were the flower girls. Then came all the freaks in the queerest bridal procession ever seen.

BIRMINGHAM PUTS IN FOR CLEAN-UP

The scout cruiser Birmingham arrived at the Charlestown Navy Yard today from Cuban waters, adding one more to the big flock of naval vessels there for Spring housecleaning. The Birmingham is the flagship of Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, commander of the torpedo boat flotilla of the third division of the Atlantic fleet.

97 CASES BEFORE ROXBURY JUDGE

Judge Hayden of the Roxbury district court today disposed of ninety-seven cases, ranging from drunks to hold-ups. While this is not a record-breaker, court attaches state that it was a "big" day.

GIRL SUES WEALTHY CLUBMAN

Worcester, April 17. — Attachments were filed today on property of Arthur W. Wilson, manufacturer, banker and clubman, and papers were served in two suits instituted against Wilson, one for $10,000 and the other for $20,000, by Miss H. Mae Sylvester of No. 4 Gardner terrace, a twenty-five-year-old stenographer of more than ordinary charms.

The $10,000 suit is described in the writ as an action of contract, and the other as an action of tort. The attachments were recorded in the Registry of Deeds at 11 o'clock, and the papers in the suit were served by Deputy Sheriff Henry W. Dephoure.

Wilson is a married man of high social position. He is president of the Coglin-Wilson Electric Company, a director in several banks and member of the leading men's clubs of the city. When queried by telephone regarding the legal steps taken on behalf of Miss Sylvester, he said:

"The case is new to me. I don't know the young woman. First I ever heard of her. If she has any claim against me, I can't imagine what it is."

Miss Sylvester's counsel, Charles F. Campbell, refused to discuss the case. But it is said that sensational developments may follow, also that the name of another prominent Worcester man will be brought into the limelight when the declarations are filed on the first Monday in June.

HOLD TWO MEN ON ARSON CHARGES

Morris Bishure, of East Boston, charged with conspiracy to defraud an insurance company, with Morris Levine, was arraigned today in the Superior Court. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $5,000. William Scharf, of Chelsea, charged with burning the building owned by Philip Frankel in Chelsea on January 12 was also held in $5,000. The men were arrested on indictment warrants returned by the special Grand Jury who were investigating the alleged "Arson Trust."

FIRE IN BUILDING NEAR SOUTH STATION

Fire was discovered in the top story of a wooden building on Utica street, near the South Station, at about 9:30 a. m. today, and for a time threatened to spread through the inflammable surrounding district.

The third story of the building contained a carpenter shop belonging to H. Hanson. The flames were discovered by employes of the Adams Express Company, who notified Engine 7 and Ladder 17.

ENGINEER HURT BY BREAKING OF ROD

Dover, N. H., April 17.—Engineer Herbert Coburn sustained a broken leg and the 6:38 Boston & Maine train from this city for Boston was held up about two hours between Durham and Madbury today by the breaking of a rod in the engine. Coburn was brought to this city on a special train and a freight engine hauled the passenger train to Haverhill, reaching there at 9:10 instead of 7:15, when it was due.

YEAR FOR SALEM MOOSE OFFICIAL

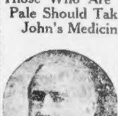
John F. Frawley, former treasurer of Lodge No. 218, Loyal Order of Moose of Salem, today pleaded guilty of appropriating $1,0[illegible] belonging to the lodge, in the Salem Police Court. He was given a year's suspended sentence with the understanding that he was to make restitution. He was ordered to pay $10 each month. He was arrested in Hartford, Ct., Saturday.

BOY CONFESSES POOR BOX THEFT

John Prize, nine, of Everett, today confessed to the Chelsea police that he and his brother robbed the poor box in the French Catholic Church, Chelsea, recently of $7. John was discovered in the church today by the Rev. Father Millett and was caught on the street. He had a screw driver and chisel in his pockets.

BEST TIME TO GAIN NEW FLESH

Those Who Are Thin and Pale Should Take Father John's Medicine Now



Experts agree that this is the best season of the year to build up the strength and weight that has been lost during the winter. Father John's Medicine is best for this purpose because it is made of pure and wholesome food elements which strengthen and build up those who are weak and run down and are easily taken into the system. No alcohol or dangerous drugs.—Advertisement.

FIND CLEW TO CLARK SLAYER

Albany, April 17.—A man's footprints close to the tiny one's of a child, is the most important clew unearthed by police and detectives today in the hunt for the murderer of "[illegible] Billy" Clark. Other clews, which seemed to add further mystery to the case, were found by the authorities in a microscopic search of the woods where the tiny mutilated body was found Saturday.

"Billy" had been missing from the home of his aunt, Mrs. John Shea, for three weeks.

The important evidence of the footprints was discovered after the police had spent more than three hours going over the grass.

George Martin, a blacksmith, led to the discovery. Martin was riding horseback in a steep wagon road just beyond Western road, a few hundred feet from where the body was found, stripped of outer clothing, in a small stream.

The blacksmith was attracted by a flash of blue in the dense woods and jumped off his horse to investigate. His find consisted of a faded blue collar and a jagged piece from the back of what was undoubtedly a boy's shirt. The collar had one small pearl button. A dark stain, either of rust or blood, was at one end of it.

Martin brought the fragment of shirt to the police who were searching the woods and fields adjacent to the Six-Mile Water Works for evidence of the identity of the fiendish child slayer.

Detectives Ryan, German and Neef were led by Martin to the spot where he had found the collar. The spot is deserted, on the edge of a large field of rye and a short distance from a thick wood. The soil is heavy molding sand, able to retain impressions for a long time.

As if etched by acid, the footprints of a man and a boy were in the soil. They were near each other, and continued for a short distance.

But the investigators found that where the traces of humans had left off the imprints of cartwheels had taken up the record. The detectives found the trail had taken the course of a complete oval, which vanished on the hard road near a pigpen.

The owner of the pigpen, the police declare, is a typical pine busher, degenerate and half-witted.

ETHAN ALLEN CORPS ORDERED TO MEXICO

Burlington, Vt., April 17.—A detachment of No. Six Company, Field Ambulance Corps, now stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, will leave tomorrow morning for Fort Sam Houston, Texas. It is said here that the large number of pneumonia cases on the border have overtaxed the capacity of the ambulance men on the scene and rendered extra aid necessary.

Lack of Just One Seaman Holds Up the Nacoochee

The coastwise steamer Nacoochee of the Savannah line, southbound for Savannah, was held over night at quarantine and was still there at 1 o'clock this afternoon for lack of one certified seaman.

The shortage was due to the strike of seamen, coal passers and stewards, twenty-five in all, who quit work before sailing time yesterday to back up their demands for higher wages and some other points.

After nearly all the places had been filled by strike-breakers, the coaster left its dock and moved down to quarantine, while more strike-breakers were brought down as fast as they could be secured. But, under the La Follette law, a certain number of certified seamen is required. The Nacoochee lacked one seaman of the number specified under the law for a vessel of that size. The steamer could not be cleared with a short crew, so remained at quarantine all night. Today the company officials renewed their hunt for one certified seaman to complete the required total. Most of the certified seamen, however, are unionized, so the company was still on the trail at early afternoon.

POLICEMAN'S AUTO INJURES COUPLE

Miss Katie Katz, twenty-five years old, of No. 337 Harvard street, and James R. Shamper, twenty-eight years old, of No. 881 Huntington avenue, were struck and injured by an automobile owned and operated by Police Lieutenant Alpheus W. Parker of Station 19. The couple were crossing Blue Hill avenue, near Mattapan square, when hit. Both were picked up by the officer and rushed to the City Hospital. The girl received a slight abrasion of the back. Shamper received a dislocated hip, abrasions of the back, right knee and lower right leg.

RANGER STARTS ON CRUISE TOMORROW

Repairs on the Massachusetts nautical steamship Ranger were completed today and tomorrow it will leave Boston for Washington and Chesapeake bay ports. The cruise will take a month and will be the first cruise this Spring outside of New England waters. On the return the Ranger will sail to the West Indies and South America. There are 105 cadets on board, in command of P. W. Hourigan.

STRIKE TIES UP MUNITION PLANTS

Syracuse, N. Y., April 17.—About 3,000 men quit work in the Brown-Lipe-Chapin plant, the Brown-Lipe Gear Works and the new Process Rawhide Company plants today. The strikers demand an eight-hour day. More plants are expected to be affected during the day. Several of these affected are said to have contracts with firms who are making automobiles and auto trucks for the allies.

DRUG BILL GOES TO HOUSE

The House Committee on Rules voted unanimously today to suspend the rules to admit for consideration by the present Legislature a bill for the appointment of a commission to investigate the use of habit-forming drugs in Massachusetts.

This proposed commission would also investigate the effectiveness of the present drug laws.

The commission would consist of a head of a department of the State Department of Health, a district attorney and one other to be appointed by the Governor.

They would sit during the summer recess and investigate and recommend to the next Legislature such laws as may be necessary.

Representative Charles F. Rowley of Brookline, who filed the petition, told the committee in the hearing today that the drug law of the State had not been codified for thirteen years, that various petitions have been filed at times with the Legislature, but that no concerted action has ever been taken.

Mr. Rowley said the drug habit had increased in Massachusetts and laws to stop it should be passed.

Following this action today the matter will now go before the Senate Rules Committee.

FIND MAN'S BODY, BULLET IN HEAD

A rigid investigation is being conducted by the Dorchester police in connection with the finding of the body of an unknown man lying in a field on Hennessey street, early today, with a revolver on the ground nearby. A bullet had entered the right temple. The body was discovered by Patrick Callahan, whose house is adjacent to the field. The description given out by the police is as follows: Fifty-five to sixty years, 5 feet 10 inches, 170 pounds, gray suit, gray mustache, green felt hat, black shoes.

BOY DROWNED IN TWO-FOOT POND

Six-year-old John Sykes, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Sykes of Neponset street in Sharon, was drowned in the Viaduct mill stream, which flows by the rear of the Sykes home. The boy was playing on the bank of the stream at early evening. He tried to climb out on a log in the water, but slipped and fell in. His screams were heard by John Nickerson, who hurried to the waterside. Before Mr. Nickerson could find the boy the little fellow was drowned, although the water was only about two feet deep.

TELL OF BIG WARORDER PROFITS

Huge profits on war orders for infantry equipment for the British army were described in a bill of equity filed today in the Supreme Court at East Cambridge by Harvey Wheeler of [illegible] against Richard H. Long of Framingham and the Framingham [illegible] Company.

Wheeler, executive officer of the Boston Harness Company at Concord, has also had an attachment for $100,000 filed against Long.

He asks the Supreme Court to compel Long, in accordance with an alleged agreement made April 24, 1915, to make an account of all profits on war orders and pay him one-fourth of the profits.

The bill of equity involves war orders amounting to millions of dollars.

BIG WAR ORDER.

Wheeler declares that in 1914 he received from Booth & Co. of New York an order for 150,000 sets of infantry equipment for the British army, each set to consist of a belt with two shoulder straps, two canvas bags, two leather cartridge boxes, a water-bottle carrier, a trenching tool carrier with straps and a gun sling.

Wheeler says that he sublet part of the contract to Long, and that between them they filled the order, both making a handsome profit. Wheeler declares that prior to February 8, 1915, he made an oral agreement whereby on future orders for infantry equipment Long was to pay him $1 a set in consideration of his assistance in securing the order.

Wheeler says he assisted Long in obtaining an order for 80,000 sets of equipment from Booth & Company, for which Long received $9.25 a set, a total of $740,000; but that Long refused to keep his agreement to pay Wheeler $1 a set.

COMPROMISE PLAN.

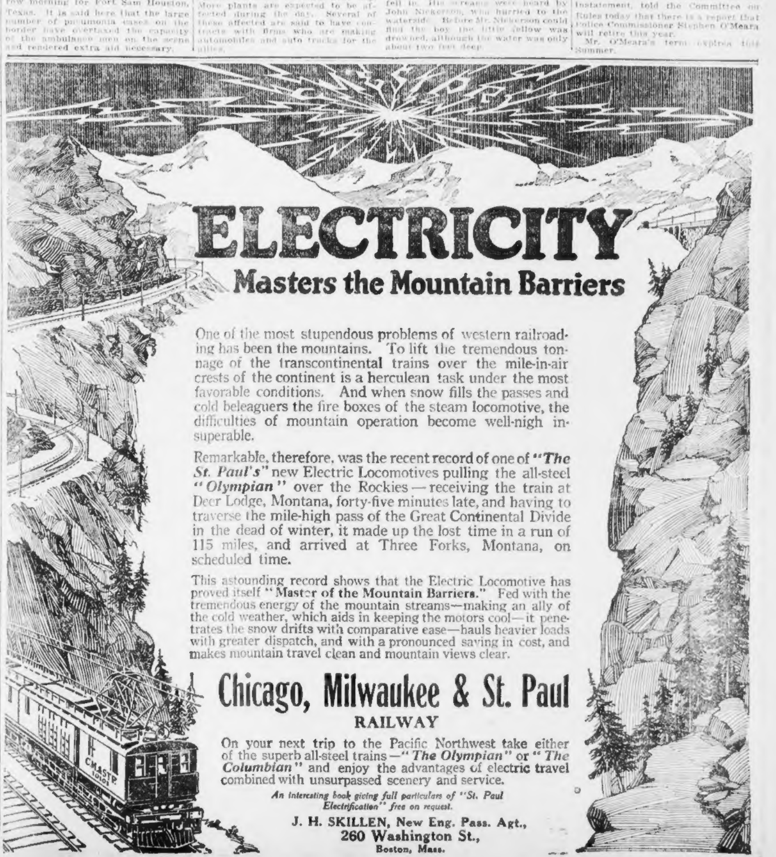
April 26, 1915, Wheeler declares he and Long met in the office of the Boston Harness Company and agreed on a compromise, by which Long gave Wheeler $50,000 and further agreed to give Wheeler one-fourth of all profits on future orders.

Since then, Wheeler declares, Long received from Booth & Company orders for 15,000 sets of infantry equipment and 150,000 bandoliers; and from J. P. Morgan & Company orders for 206,000 sets of infantry equipment.

REPORTS O'MEARA SOON TO RETIRE

William F. Hutchison, a former member of the Boston Police Department, who has filed a petition for reinstatement, told the Committee on Rules today that there is a report that Police Commissioner Stephen O'Meara will retire this year.

Mr. O'Meara's term expires this Summer.



ELECTRICITY
Masters the Mountain Barriers

One of the most stupendous problems of western railroading has been the mountains. To lift the tremendous tonnage of the transcontinental trains over the mile-in-air crests of the continent is a herculean task under the most favorable conditions. And when snow fills the passes and cold beleaguers the fire boxes of the steam locomotive, the difficulties of mountain operation become well-nigh insuperable.

Remarkable, therefore, was the recent record of one of "The St. Paul's" new Electric Locomotives pulling the all-steel "Olympian" over the Rockies — receiving the train at Deer Lodge, Montana, forty-five minutes late, and having to traverse the mile-high pass of the Great Continental Divide in the dead of winter, it made up the lost time in a run of 115 miles, and arrived at Three Forks, Montana, on scheduled time.

This astounding record shows that the Electric Locomotive has proved itself "Master of the Mountain Barriers." Fed with the tremendous energy of the mountain streams—making an ally of the cold weather, which aids in keeping the motors cool—it penetrates the snow drifts with comparative ease—hauls heavier loads with greater dispatch, and with a pronounced saving in cost, and makes mountain travel clean and mountain views clear.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul RAILWAY

On your next trip to the Pacific Northwest take either of the superb all-steel trains—"The Olympian" or "The Columbian" and enjoy the advantages of electric travel combined with unsurpassed scenery and service.

GENERAL STAFF IN CONTROL IN GREECE

London, April 17. — Following the adjournment of the Greek Chamber of Deputies, the Greek Cabinet and the General Staff today assumed absolute control of the government, says a dispatch from Athens.

The most important question which demands a solution now is the demand of the allies for use of the railway lines for the transportation of Serbian troops from the Adriatic to the Aegean coast.

BRITISH GAIN IN TIGRIS ADVANCE

London, April 17. — The British troops moving to relieve Kut-el-Amara have gained more ground against the Turks barring their way along the Tigris River. Pushing steadily ahead, the British have driven in the Turks from their advanced lines on the right bank of the river and occupied the lines, killing many of the Turks and taking a considerable number of prisoners.

WAR SUMMARY

Today began the ninth week of the battle of Verdun. It has been and still is a deadly struggle, with incessant artillery fire, punctuated with ferocious infantry charges and embroidered with mining, counter-mining, asphyxiating gas, liquid fire and other up-to-date means of slaughter.

The Germans shelled the French positions on both sides of the Meuse in the night, but there was no infantry movements.

The Russians report dislodging Turkish troops from a position only fifteen miles east of Trebizond, on the Black Sea coast, and following that gain with vigorous pursuit of the fleeing Ottomans.

The Turks received another setback in Mesopotamia, according to a British statement which says that General Lake's force, going to the relief of Kut-el-Amara, drove the Turks from advanced lines on the right bank of the Tigris.

The Turkish government admitted today that the sinking of the Russian hospital ship Portugal in the Black Sea on March 30 was the work of a Turkish submarine. But the Ottoman government justified this by declaring that the ship flew the Russian merchant flag, was painted gray and had only a small red line, instead of flying the Red Cross flag, being painted white and having a green or red stripe, one and one-half metres long, as stipulated by The Hague agreement. The whole trend of the note is that Russia has only herself to blame.

SYMPATHY FOR JEWS SENT BY THE POPE

By International News Service.

New York, April 17.—Deep sympathy for the Jewish war sufferers and a prayer for the early restoration of peace are contained in a letter from Pope Benedict to the American Jewish committee.

The Pontiff also makes a plea for the observance of brotherly love among nations, irrespective of religious differences.

Pope Benedict's reply was received in a letter from Cardinal Gasparri, Secretary of State for the Vatican, which follows:

Secretary of State to His Holiness. From the Vatican.

Gentlemen:

The Supreme Pontiff has with interest taken notice of the letter bearing the date of December 30, 1915, which you have been pleased to address to him in the name of three million Jewish citizens of the United States [illegible]

[illegible]

(Signed) P. Cardinal Gasparri.

British Predict U. S. Ultimatum

London, April 17.—British newspapers today expressed the belief that an ultimatum was being drawn up by the United States on the submarine question for presentation to Germany.

All the influential newspapers printed dispatches from Washington upon the German-American situation and most of them printed editorials hinting that decisive action may be expected on the part of the United States immediately.

That the Americans have at last lost their patience and that a rupture of diplomatic relations seems certain is the sentiment expressed by practically all the editorials.

GERMANS SEEK TO AVOID BREAK

[illegible] the last moment, it will not again be subjected to Cabinet scrutiny.

That Germany has made suggestions to this government through Ambassador Gerard dealing with the submarine cases is known. These suggestions, however, are held confidential, and neither at the White House nor at the State Department will they be discussed.

The natural assumption, of course, is that the German government is making every effort to prevent a crisis being forced.

Press dispatches from Berlin all agree on this, it being asserted as a fact that Germany will assume responsibility for the Sussex torpedoing if the evidence of the United States is as convincing as President Wilson and his advisers are understood to consider it.

The members of the Senate and House Foreign Relations Committees today were waiting word from President Wilson as to when he wanted them to discuss the situation. It was expected that an engagement would be made for late this afternoon or tonight, but up to the present he has not definitely approved the completed text of the communication prepared by Secretary Lansing.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was still without word from his government as to any new developments in the Sussex case. He refused to comment on the situation, but said he was at the service of Secretary Lansing in any way that the latter might desire.

Berlin and Vienna Agree on Policy

By International News Service.

Berlin, April 17.—Germany and Austria-Hungary are in full accord in international questions that have recently arisen, it was announced today. Baron Burian, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, left for Vienna last night after all pending questions had been discussed with Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and German Foreign Minister von Jagow.

Though it was stated today that no special matters were discussed and that Baron Burian's visit was made in the regular course of events, it is understood that submarine warfare was the topic at a meeting that lasted an entire day.

Dispatches from America indicate that another crisis has developed over the Sussex case, but attaches of the Berlin Foreign Office refuse to comment on this matter until Ambassador von Bernstorff makes further reports.

WAR MUST END AT VERDUN, SAYS KAISER

By International News Service.

Paris, April 17.—A semi-official note issued here reviewing the operations about Verdun contains the following:

"The German Emperor some days ago reviewed one of the divisions engaged in the region between Douaumont and Vaux, and it was there that he said:

"'The war of 1870 was decided at Paris. The present war must end at Verdun.'"

GRAND DUKE BUT 20 MILES FROM TREBIZOND

By International News Service.

Petrograd, April 17.—The Russian army of the Grand Duke Nicholas is within twenty miles of Trebizond, the great Turkish Black Sea port, according to an official statement issued by the General Staff here, which says:

"Supported by artillery on sea and land, our troops stormed the Turkish positions on the left bank of the Kara, twenty-five versts (seventeen and one-half miles) east of Trebizond. We are pursuing the enemy.

"At Baybourt the enemy was repulsed."

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (double strength), take this home, add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful 4 times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat.

It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and cost little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will probably find it is just what you need.—Advertisement.

"The Story of Susan Lenox Her Fall and Rise"

The story—it has been gripping enough from the first sentence—has now reached a stage even more interesting, more thrilling. Susan is in New York—her land of promise.

David Graham Phillips never wrote anything more powerful than the description of Susan's struggles in the metropolis—the city that could take all—yet give nothing.

David Graham Phillips

has put into this story a meaning—a meaning as clear as a Colorado sky. And the meaning is clear simply because the book deals with facts—the facts of this strange old human life that we are all living down here under the stars.

It "holds the mirror up to Nature" with a wonderful steadiness, and enables us to see things as they are. In its picture galleries the portraits are from life. There is no faking, no coloring, no romancing.

It shows us that there is either a whole lot of stupidity or a whole lot of hypocrisy rampant among us, and that it is our urgent, immediate duty to institute a thorough mental, moral and religious house-cleaning.

Read this story—as strong a sermon as was ever preached from pulpit—today.

'TOM' GIBLIN RESCUES SUN WORSHIPERS

Representative "Tom" Giblin of East Boston, the man of many titles, has won new laurels. He is now known as "The Good Samaritan." Hindu sun worshippers are "Tom's" specialty this time. He rescued a couple of them at Wood Island Park today. The genial solon labels them "Sun Worshippers." The East Boston police call them something else. Anyway, if "Tom" ever desires to go to India he'll be treated royally, according to his newly-made friends.

While riding about the park early today in his automobile "Tom" was astonished to see a couple of men, scantily clad, dark of skin, under a tree, evidently at morning worship.

TERRIBLE ITCHING PIMPLES ON FACE

Large, Red and Hard. Burned So Large Spots Appeared. At Night Could Not Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"A few pimples made their appearance on my face, and thinking that they would disappear I did nothing to remedy them, but after a couple of weeks I then found that they were rapidly increasing. They were large, red and hard and they itched and burned so that soon large spots appeared [illegible] by my rubbing. At night I would rub my face it would itch terribly so that I could not sleep.

"I chanced upon a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent for a free sample, and then bought more and my face was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Edith C. Sehuman, 17 Bedford St., Hartford, Conn., Sept. 20, 1915.

Resinol Stops Itching At Once

It is a positive fact that the moment resinol ointment touches any itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins. Unless the trouble is due to some serious internal condition, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, or similar tormenting, unsightly eruption, leaving the skin clear and healthy.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use resinol soap and resinol ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for over twenty years has been used by careful physicians in treating skin affections. They prescribe resinol freely, knowing that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin—even of a tiny baby. Every druggist sells resinol soap and resinol ointment. Samples free, Dept. 3-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

SENATE FIGHT ON GRAFT CHARGES

Washington, April 17.—The Senate engaged in a battle royal today over the National Guard. The fighting opened when the National Guard deluged the Senate with protests against Senator Borah's charge that the $8,000,000 federal annual appropriation to the guard was "shamefully and disgracefully wasted and some of it actually embezzled."

Senators Pomerene of Ohio, Reed of Missouri, and McCumber of North Dakota championed the National Guard cause and delivered a joint assault on Borah. Borah stood his ground and shouted:

"I challenge the National Guard lobby to controvert any of the specific charges I have made.

"I made no general charge. I gave names, dates and amounts and I am prepared to back them up."

Senator Reed had read a sweeping denial by the executive committee of the National Guard association.

Senator Pomerene submitted a letter from Benson W. Hough, adjutant-general of the Ohio National Guard, characterizing Borah's charges as "very unfair."

"The Senator from Idaho has been misled," said Pomerene.

"The Senator from Idaho has not been misled," retorted Borah.

WISE TELLS OF NEW PARTY MOVEMENT

By International News Service.

New York, April 17.—Third-party movement, based on two principles, progressivism and anti-militarism, with Henry Ford, Frank Walsh, chairman of the Industrial Relations Commission, and Herbert Bigelow of Ohio, as its presidential possibilities, has already made great strides in the Middle West, according to Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, who returned from a tour of the leading cities in that part of the country, during which he made speeches against preparedness.

AMERICAN REFUGEES ESCAPE FROM MEXICO

Washington, April 17.—Admiral Winslow, commander of the Pacific fleet, today reported to the Navy Department that sixty-five American and eight British men, women and children refugees from Mazatlan, Mexico, had arrived at San Diego, Cal., on the supply ship Glacier. They fled from Mexico several days ago after warnings had been received of uprisings along the Western coast.

HELD FOR ATTEMPT TO ROB LIQUOR SHOP

In South Boston court today Jeremiah Toomey of the old "Chicken" Welsh gang of twenty-five years ago, was accused of attempting to enter the liquor store owned by the Boston Fish Market Corporation at No. 243 Northern avenue, early on the morning of April 14. Toomey was held in $500. Toomey, who is minus one eye from a safe explosion, it is said, made a strong defence, but the police testimony was considered strong enough to hold him.

ASSAILS WATCH AND WARD METHODS

With a vigorous arraignment of the Watch and Ward Society, James A. Sanborn of Boston today urged the Committee on Rules to admit for consideration by the present Legislature a bill to prohibit the employment of college students under twenty-one years of age in vice crusades.

Sanborn said that the society might be engaged "in much better business than helping students to make criminals of themselves."

He said of the Watch and Ward officers:

"If they weren't getting salaries they would be working for a living in some better field. They feel that they have to get to make some kind of a showing for the money they get."

President Frederick B. Allen and Secretary J. Frank Chase of the Watch and Ward Society were seated in the committee room throughout the hearing. President Allen said the society was not opposed to the bill.

"It has not been our custom," he said, "to employ students under twenty-one. The students recently at work have been mature young men."

TEACHES BOYS CRIME.

"It is a sorrowful thing," said Mr. Sanborn, "that college students are transformed into stool-pigeons for a few dollars. This business teaches them to commit crime. They quickly learn to smoke and drink, and the other evils follow.

"These societies send pure boys and pure girls into these dens of vice. Why don't they employ criminals to catch criminals? That is the custom in New York and elsewhere."

Sanborn was asked if he had information that would be of value to the Watch and Ward Society or the police.

"VICE DENS" IN BACK BAY.

"I have," he replied, "and I have given it to Commissioner O'Meara.

"I am familiar with the situation," he said. "A few years ago the dens of vice were in the North and West Ends, but they have moved out into the Back Bay and South End, where they can get more money."

Mr. Sanborn said that the fathers of two Cincinnati families, whose sons are at Harvard, have become estranged because one of the boys was employed as an informer by a society and that he subsequently became addicted to liquor.

Sanborn's bill would impose a fine of from $5 to $100 upon any society that employed a student under twenty-one.

He said the bill was not particularly directed against the Watch and Ward Society, but he added that he wanted to go on record as commending Judge Irwin for his "lecture" to Secretary Chase.

At the close of the public hearing the Committee on Rules voted against suspending the rules to admit the bill.

'REORGANIZED CITY WORK,' SAYS MURPHY

The reorganization of the Boston public works department was made solely on the initiative of Commissioner Edward F. Murphy, according to his testimony in the Dorchester court today.

The commissioner said that there had been many complaints because of the lack of co-operation and coordination in the department, and he felt it necessary to make changes.

He was the second witness at the hearing on the petitions of Frank N. McInnis, Storrs L. Durkee and Bliss W. Robbins for reinstatement in their old positions in the public works department, from which they claimed to have been discharged without cause.

The first witness, John F. Sullivan, a New York engineer, testifying as an expert, admitted that the city was paying him and two other experts $100 a day each to testify at these hearings. The other men are Experts Adams and Tirrell.

Mr. Sullivan said he believed in centralization of authority and therefore was in favor of reorganization.

Commissioner Murphy testified that he became acquainted with Mayor Curley in 1900, but at that time was not politically active.

OFFICER RAPPED BY COURT-MARTIAL

Washington, April 17.—Secretary of War Baker today announced that Lieutenant-Colonel Lewis F. Goodier, judge advocate general of the western department of the army, had been reprimanded by court-martial because he attempted to interfere with the administration of the aviation branch of the Signal Corps. President Wilson has approved the findings of the court. Colonel Goodier was charged with having written letters to the heads of the Pacific Aviation Corps trying to induce them to show favors toward his son, Lewis F., Jr.

THREE NEW STRIKES IN LAWRENCE MILLS

Lawrence, April 17.—As a result of three new strikes at the Wood, Lawrence Duck and Lower Pacific mills today, over 1,000 operatives are out. Dissatisfied with their wages, about 700 menders and burlers at the Wood mills walked out this morning. A mass meeting was held in the South Lawrence Common and City Hall was engaged for a later meeting. Committees were appointed to confer with the mill officials Tuesday. At the Lawrence Duck mills several hundred weavers are reported to be out.

ACCUSED OF NEWTON SCHOOL ROBBERIES

Richard Freedy, fifteen, of Jewett street, Newton, and Lenox T. Rhodes, sixteen, of Omar terrace, Newtonville, pupils at Newton High School and members of well-to-do families, were in Newton Court today charged with breaking and entering. Their cases were continued until April 20. They are accused of taking part in the series of schoolhouse breaks which began March 26, several hundred dollars' worth of property being taken.

Ask Negro Girl Stenographer Be Reinstated

A formal petition for the reinstatement of Miss Jane R. Bosfield, the young stenographer who, it is charged, was forced to resign from the Medfield State Hospital because of her color, was filed with Governor McCall today by a delegation representing the Equal Rights League.

The petition also asks that the hospital officials be "disciplined" by the Governor and Council for their alleged manifestation of a racial prejudice.

Miss Bosfield, it is charged, was segregated from the white employes and when she protested was forced to resign. Governor McCall and the council will give a public hearing on the petition Thursday.

It was filed by President E. T. Morris of the National Equal Rights League, Attorney John W. Schenck, the Rev. T. A. Auten of the Rush Avenue A. M. E. Zion Church of Cambridge, the Rev. B. W. Swain of the Columbus Avenue A. M. E. Church, the Rev. M. A. N. Shaw of the Twelfth Baptist Church, Sherwin L. Cook, Mrs. E. B. Mead, W. Monroe Trotter and more than 2,000 others.

At the hearing Thursday the petitioners will ask for the removal of Dr. Edward French, superintendent of the hospital.

DR. HILL FINED IN DRUG CASE

Dr. Washington Hill, a South End doctor, pleaded guilty to charges of prescribing morphine for habitual drug users, in the Superior Court today, and was fined $50 by Judge Dana.

Assistant District Attorney Webber was satisfied with the payment of a fine as there are some twenty-three counts against Dr. Hill besides the three disposed of today.

Julius Simon and John Kale, indicted with Hill for conspiracy to sell morphine, are expected to be brought to trial next week.

GARDNER TO TALK AT WORCESTER

Congressman Augustus P. Gardner, Charles Sumner Bird and Grafton D. Cushing of the "Young Guard Big Four" pledged to support Theodore Roosevelt, will speak tonight at a rally in Worcester. Congressman Gardner was slated to be the principal speaker tomorrow night at the annual dinner of the Worcester County Republican Club, but the Worcester Old Guard politicians withdrew their invitation shortly after Mr. Gardner arraigned the Old Guard as "the Black Horse Cavalry."

PRISONER SAYS HE SAW ARNOLD GIRL BURIED

religion, it is said, and made the confession in order to ease his conscience.

DESCRIBES JEWELRY.

The prisoner, who has served six months of a two years' sentence for extortion, described jewelry which he claimed to have seen on the girl's body, and declared that he was positive she was Dorothy Arnold. He also described in detail the appearance of the doctor, together with that of a young man who hired the gunmen. He also declared that he was able to point out the location of both houses.

He said:

"The job was framed in a Seventh avenue saloon in New York. A gentleman hired 'Little Louis' Bedonin and myself to act as guards on a job which he wanted done. We both had guns and were told that all we would have to do would be to protect the man in case of trouble.

"The gentleman paid me $250 for my share. I don't know how much the other fellow got. We were taken to a house in New Rochelle. A man, who was a doctor, brought out a woman wrapped in a sheet and put her in an automobile. We got in and I sat beside her. I could see a signet ring on one hand and there was other jewelry, including earrings.

DUG GRAVE IN CELLAR.

"The machine left about 9 o'clock at night and was driven to the Forty-second street ferry and then straight to West Point.

"The 'doc' carried the woman, who was still moaning, into the house and put her on a couch. Then we went back to New York, and I left the machine at Twenty-sixth street.

"The next night I was in the saloon when 'Little Louis' ran in and told me to go with him. We went up Broadway to the Knickerbocker, and I saw the gentleman's automobile standing at the curb. We got into it, and Louis said: 'She's dead.' I made some remark, and he said: 'Shut your mouth! We're going to West Point.'

"The gentleman was in the machine, which was driven to West Point, to the same house that we had carried the girl to the night before. The 'doc' was there when we arrived, and he wrapped a sheet about the girl's body, and led the way into the cellar. In the cellar was a grave already dug, and another gunman named Deponse was there with a shovel. The 'doc' just dropped the body into the grave, and Deponse began to shovel the dirt back."

Relief For Rupture Without Operation

Mighty few people ever have to be operated on when first ruptured.

But wearing makeshift trusses year after year is sooner or later almost sure to make work for the surgeon.

You know that from your own experience—you know you're worse now than a year ago—probably getting worse all the time.

If you keep on that way, how long will it be before you'll have to undergo a dangerous and expensive operation?

Aren't you willing to let us prove—by a sixty-day demonstration—how you can save yourself from all that?

Especially when you can make this sixty-day test without having to risk a penny?

60 Days' Trial To Prove How Good It Is

Here is something—a guaranteed rupture holder—which has saved thousands of people from ever having to be operated on.

It has so thoroughly proved its merits that we are willing to send it on 60-days' trial.

We'll make it especially for your case—make it to your measure—and practically lend it to you just for a test.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or from bothering you in any way, then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single penny.

Don't Send Any Money

Simply write for our free book—that will tell you everything you want to know.

It shows how our guaranteed rupture holder is made on an absolutely new principle. How it instantly and automatically protects you against every strain so your rupture can't possibly be forced out. And how in addition it provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture.

The book tells how our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe—is so beneficial that physicians in all parts of America now recommend it instead of advising operation. How it has completely cured thousands of people whose cases seemed almost hopeless. How it does away with the curse of belts, leg-straps, and springs. How it is perspiration-proof and water-proof and will hold in the bath. How you can try it sixty days without having to risk a penny, and how little it costs if you keep it.

This Free Book Is Full of Facts Never Before Put in Print

This book sums up all we have learned about rupture during forty years of experience.

Shows just why elastic and spring trusses are the ruptured man's worst enemies.

Exposes the humbug "appliances," "methods," "plasters," etc.

Explains why operation is nearly always a needless gamble with death—and why, even if you manage to live through it, you may have to keep on wearing a truss.

It shows why 60-days' trial is the only safe way to buy anything for rupture and how the Cluthe is the only thing you can get on such a long trial because the only thing good enough to stand such a test.

Don't fail to get this book—don't put it off—the minute it takes you to write for it may free you from rupture troubles for the rest of your life.

CALL FOR 50,000 BILLY SUNDAY BIBLE MEN

A call for 50,000 men for Bible classes in the Billy Sunday campaign was sounded today in Park Street Church by the Rev. Dr. George E. Dowey before a large meeting of ministers of Greater Boston.

Dr. Dowey "rounded up" in Philadelphia 50,000 men before the opening of the Sunday campaign in that city and he hopes to get the same number for Boston.

"In Boston and New England we'll get 500 classes of 100 men each," said Dr. Dowey. "These men are organized for Bible study, personal evangelism and church and community service. Men everywhere are responding to our call. Never was such interest expressed in this movement. We hope to have 50,000 men at work in some movement within two months.

"This is a strategic time in Boston. Lay aside your old feelings, men, and get right to work. Business men can do something every day. Get a good, active move on for every day. It will not interfere with your business. We hope to have every man in Boston within a short time reading Bibles and preparing for the big Billy Sunday campaign, when men will be talking about the highest things of life besides mere dollars and cents, mixed with a little politics."

HEAR BAY STATE ENGINEER FOR 6-CENT FARE

Robert M. Feustel, a consulting engineer for the Bay State Street Railway Company, was the first witness today at the continued hearing before the Public Service Commission on the company's petition for permission to collect six-cent fares.

Mr. Feustel, on whose examination and reports the demand is based, admitted under cross-examination by Arthur S. Wadleigh, city solicitor of Lynn, that his previous street railway work consisted solely of making a valuation for the Manchester, N. H., Street Railway Company.

The witness said that he was thirty-two years old, and that he graduated from college eleven years ago. After leaving school he was connected with the Fort Wayne, Lafayette & Wabash road and the Northwestern Elevated Railway in Chicago. From 1907 to 1914 he said that he was employed by the Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, exclusive of short periods when he conducted outside investigations. The witness said that he worked up from assistant engineer to assistant chief engineer.

He also worked for the Public Service Commissions of New Hampshire and Manitoba, Canada, and the Indianapolis Light & Fuel Company.

APPROVE ISSUES OF STREET CAR STOCK

In an order made public today the Public Service Commission approves the issue of 7,357 shares of 6 per cent. cumulative, first preferred stock at $100 a share, amounting to $35,700, by the Bay State Street Railway Company, the proceeds to be used to pay floating indebtedness incurred in the construction and equipping of the road.

Conditional upon the issue of the preferred stock, the commission also approves an issue b ythe Bay State of $400,000 worth of 4 per cent. fifty-year coupon or registered bonds of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Company, the proceeds to be used to pay floating indebtedness incurred in the construction and equipping of the railway.

An issue of $300,000 worth of Old Colony Street Railway Company bonds by the Bay State under the same conditions is also approved. These bonds are to be payable in fifty years and bear 4 per cent. interest.

A previous order of the commission authorizing the issue of $1,281,900 worth of 6 per cent. cumulative first preferred stock by the Bay State is rescinded, no stock having been issued thereunder.

LEO LEARY'S FIANCEE IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Providence, April 17.—Miss Alice McElroy, the heiress who is to marry Leo Leary of the Harvard football coaching staff in June, is reported seriously ill at the McElroy mansion on the fashionable East Side. She underwent an operation upon her tonsils and is threatened with pneumonia and other serious complications. Mr. Leary came here from Boston.

BROTHERS BACK AFTER MONTHS IN TRENCHES

James [illegible] Pittman and Henry Pittman, brothers, of No. 225 East Eighth street, South Boston, have just returned to their home after ten months in the trenches in France, as members of the King's Eighth Irish Royal Engineers.

The two Pittman brothers had many narrow escapes and both were wounded. Another brother, William Pittman, is still in the trenches, a sergeant.

The three young men left Boston on the liner Canadian, loaded with horses, about eleven months ago. On arriving at Liverpool they spent the [illegible] dollars paid them in their furlough ashore and then joined the engineering outfit. After two months in training at Blackpool they were sent to the base in France. From there they were sent to the firing line.

It was their duty to build barb wire entanglements and other engineering jobs with the other members of their outfit.

About a month ago, while repairing an entanglement in front of the first line trenches, both of the brothers were wounded, James receiving two bullets in the left leg, and Henry a shot in the right hand.

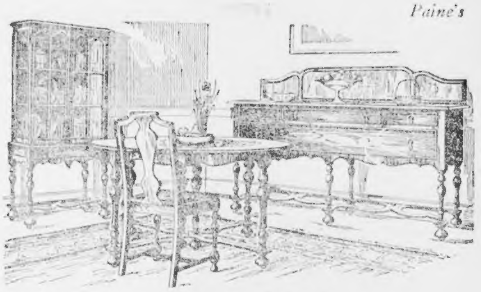
They were sent back to the base hospital and later given a ten-day furlough. After two days in England they secured civilian clothes and also passage back to Boston on the Cambrian. At the expiration of their furlough they were halfway across the Atlantic, bound for Boston.

"Never again for the trenches," is their slogan from now on, according to both brothers.

James Pittman was formerly employed as a brakeman on the Elevated, and both he and his brother were members of C Company of the Ninth Regiment, and are well known in the Peninsular district.

GUESTS FLEE FIRE IN HOTEL GARAGE

Rochester, N. H., April 17.—Fire early today practically destroyed the garage of J. H. Watson, in the annex of the Hotel Hayes. Many guests of the hotel were driven out in their nightclothes. Twenty-four machines were in the garage at the time of the fire. Some of them were destroyed, while others were badly damaged. Dr. Walter J. Roberts was burned about the hand while trying to rescue his car. The loss is estimated at $25,000.



Unusual Values At All Times

The Paine Furniture Company's policy is to give unusual values every day, rather than "a feast of values today and a famine tomorrow," which aptly describes the "sales" methods of many stores.

Take for example this dining room suite.

The William & Mary design is particularly decorative. The soft brown tone of the finely figured American Black Walnut harmonizes well with almost any color scheme for modest Colonial or more modern homes. Standardized quality at these moderate prices:—Extension Table, oiled top, $85; Sideboard, mirror back, $100; Crystal Cabinet, $75; Silver Table, $32; Chairs, $13.50; Arm Chairs, $18.50.

Rugs stored at moderate charges.

ABOUT EVERYTHING EXCEPT THE CROWDS AT THE BALL GAMES TANGO

Senators Are in Town ◆◆ Here for Four Battles

By HERMAN NICKERSON.

CLARK GRIFFITH and his band of Senators, who are strong in that term preparedness, are with us for a four-game series with the World's Champions. They open up this afternoon at Fenway Park, being ready for the word, and they expect to make it very interesting for the Carrigan crew. That is the way they feel this morning.

You can't blame them, for they walked into the town with a pretty fair temperature as a welcome which just now means a lot to the players and magnates alike. This frozen article of the national pastime is getting to be a thing we can all pass up. What is needed is just a little of real Spring weather and then baseball may be said to have come into its own.

The unbeaten team over which Bill Carrigan rules is just as strong in its feeling that it can make the Senators go some to beat them, as the men from Washington are in their hunch that they are about to get a start. A fifty-fifty break is the best the weather and the scores have given Griffith, and in four days he may wish it stood the same.

But there is no knowing what the game will bring forth. Both teams are reported to be in shape, with a few exceptions. Walker is getting over that threatened cold and will probably start in centre field. Shorten and Duffy Lewis are to alternate in left field, it being up to the kind of pitching which man works.

Carl Mays, the big blonde pitcher, who was to have opposed Walter Johnson in the box this afternoon, will be unable to do so. Mays is having trouble with his tonsils, and Manager Carrigan has advised him to have them removed. While the operation in this case is only slight, Mays will be out of the game for at least three days.

In his stead, Ruth is carded to give battle to the Senators' star moundsman.

SENATORS STRONG.

The Washington team this season is a strong organization with plenty of fighting spirit, and the boys do not seem to know when they are beaten. They are dangerous at all times and in the line-up are some heavy hitters, while the pitching staff is far better than anything the Athletics have shown or could have displayed, for that matter.

Foster and Milan are old favorites, while Williams is remembered from last season and for the time he worked with the Boston Nationals. The series is the final one of this Spring home stay of the Champions, for they leave Thursday night for Philadelphia, to remain away until May 4, when they return for a series with the New York Highlanders.

The crowds at Fenway Park have been unusually light so far this season, but this is due to the cold weather more than anything else. There has not been a day so far upon which they have played that it has been comfortable to sit out. Under these conditions it is rather remarkable that the crowds have been as large as they have.

With the appearance of real Spring weather the fans will take courage and go out to cheer the men on to the goal toward which they are headed, and with a good start. Three straight games from the Athletics is as good as anyone could ask for. To be sure there has not been anything remarkable about the contests in the form of hitting, but the comforting feature has been the manner in which the pitching staff has delivered.

SOX STRONG IN PITCHERS.

I do not believe there is a club in either league that has as strong a staff as that which draws its money from the Red Sox treasury. Unless some accident occurs or there is illness these twirlers are numerous enough and effective enough to keep the team up in the race with anything like good playing. The team is an evenly balanced one with plenty of good material in reserve.

Walker will in all probability come through with a rush. He has waited in St. Louis and feels the change in the treatment accorded him by the fans here. It was a trying position to place a man in but he seems to have taken hold in the right manner and no one expects the impossible of him. He has three clever teammates to work with and when they get going together I look to see a pretty swell outfield combination.

Hooper is better today than he ever was and Shorten is making a fine record for himself. Lewis is ready to be called upon but it will take a few days for him to get his batting eye. He had a badly bruised thumb and he has been forced to favor it when at bat which makes him take an unnatural swing. When his hand recovers the Alameda Infant will be there with that club as dangerous as ever.

CARRIGAN PLEASED.

It must be a comforting sensation for a manager to view this array of fine material. Bill Carrigan has a convertible infield and outfield as well. In Saturday's game there was more life and dash and the hitting began to show. The boys were stinging the ball in the Spring training camp and hitting straight away, which shows that they are sure to come through. A fast field will make all the difference in the world in the fielding and the outfield work will improve with dry ground. Hits that should have tailed, were dead during the three games played thus far. This condition of course was equally irksome to both teams.

A fair day, a warm sun and the Senators make it looks as if the fans were in for a fine game today.

The Newsboys' Protective Union, A. F. of L., of Boston is going to present President J. J. Lannin of the Red Sox with a gold newsboys' union button on the morning of April 19. A committee of three has been appointed to make the presentation.

Charlottesville, Va., April 17.—The undefeated Harvard nine is here today for a tilt with the University of Virginia.

Fripp's work at the bat against West Point Saturday failed to please Coach Mitchell. Twice he failed to get the hit-and-run signal. "Billy" Murray who relieved him late in the game may be started this afternoon. Wallie Garritt, who held the Red Sox to two hits in the last four innings of play, will probably be Harvard's slab choice.

Tomorrow is an off day for the Harvard team and a party of them, chaperoned by Neal R. O'Hara, the war correspondent, will visit the White House, and they hope to meet President Wilson.

SIDELIGHTS

By HERMAN NICKERSON

MANAGER CARRIGAN and his World's Champions are set for another run of victories. Three in a row from the Athletics was going strong. They will, however, have to go at a faster clip to get the big end from the Senators, who are here for a four-game series opening this afternoon.

WALTER JOHNSON is the star of the visitors and will be used in one of the games. He is a big favorite wherever he goes, so the fans of Boston will take this chance of seeing some of the best in the twirling line when he faces the Red Sox batters.

* * *

WALKER and Shorten have won a place in the esteem of the local baseball following by their clever work so far for the leaders. Lewis will get into the game regularly again, that is if Manager Carrigan still clings to the idea of making a shift in left field, according to the kind of pitching, left or right, that his men work against.

* * *

IT will take a few days before Duffy gets his eyes on the ball and becomes the hard hitter that he looks to be at all times. A bad thumb is a hard thing to handle, especially at bat, where the gripping of the wagon tongue has so much to do with it.

* * *

TRIS SPEAKER has won the fans of Cleveland, just as he did those of this city. It will not be strange to see him cracking that ball upon the nose at all times. He got a fine start this Spring.

* * *

NO ballplayer going to a city as Tris went to Cleveland would in any way talk as if he expected to become the manager of the club. Still, I am of the opinion that Tris will some day take the reins of that club in his hands and lead it to victory. At present he is just a player and he knows it.

* * *

SCOTT has shown he has some "wing." In the series with the Athletics he had a fast man to take care of upon many occasions. Witt has about as much speed as any man in the game, and Scott's throws beat him out. This clever little backstop is making good all the nice things Jim McAleer said of him way back in 1912.

* * *

THE combination of Barry and Scott should be a fine one this season. Barry is faster than he ever was on those plays around the middle sack and will get the youngster working with him the way Evers has Maranville.

* * *

BEFORE the season opened there was some talk from the other cities that Gardner had gone back. When Larry reported at the Springs he was in great shape and he has improved ever since. A life in the open all Winter made him hard as nails, and if there is any evidence of his slipping I must have missed it. He looks like a very classy third sacker to me.

* * *

DEL GAINER has not reported nor has the club heard from him lately. It might be a good thing to find out just how ill this player is.

* * *

IN the mean time the first corner is being taken care of as well as in any club in the league by Hoblitzel.

* * *

THE few times Janvrin has got into the game he has made good. He is going to hit the ball this year. Few men are any faster on their feet than Harold and "Bill" uses him upon every occasion when a fast man is needed in the pinches. Janvrin runs base nicely and will be very valuable this season.

OTTO KNABE LANDS JOB WITH PIRATES

Pittsburgh, April 17.—Otto Knabe, the Phillies' former second baseman and manager of the Baltimore Feds in 1914 and 1915, has been signed by the Pirates. He will report to Manager Callahan for work Thursday when the championship season opens here.

B. C. STARTS TOUR IN NEW YORK TODAY

New York, April 17.—The Boston College nine plays Fordham here today in its first game on its annual Southern trip. Manager Mitchell and Coach Bill Sweeney are with a squad of sixteen players. Halloran is carded to oppose Fordham in this afternoon's contest.

KRAMER LANDS OPENER.

Newark, N. J., April 17.—Frank Kramer won the mile open in hollow style at the Velodrome opening before a crowd of over 7,000 spectators. Clarence Carman finished second.

DR. LEE WILL OPEN ATHLETIC COURSE

In answer to the widespread demand of the private and public schools of New England for teacher-coaches, the Harvard authorities have authorized the division of education to conduct six conferences on athletics, starting Saturday, April 29. Dr. Joseph Lee, the wellknown Boston educator, will open the course, which will close late in May with a talk by Percy D. Haughton, the Harvard football coach and president of the Braves, who will lecture on football and the general coaching of the game.

William F. Garcelon, former graduate manager of athletics at Harvard, for years advocated the establishment of a course similar to that which has now been authorized, but met with failure. He is to be one of the lecturers and talk on the coaching of field and track athletics. Dean Briggs and Dr. Dudley A. Sargent are others who are to have a prominent part in the conduct of the course.

WRESTLERS GO ON IN BENEFIT SHOW

New York, April 17.—Many of the favorites in the recent international wrestling tournament will compete in a benefit for the Polish war sufferers at the Manhattan Opera House, tonight. Wladek Zbyszko is matched with Fred Pilakoff, a newcomer from Finland, in a catch-as-catch-can bout to a finish.

YOUNG NOT FOR BRAVES.

Williamstown, April 17.—"Stan" Young, Williams' star pitcher, denies the report that he is going to join the Braves at the close of the college season. He has another year here and is not counting upon turning professional.

COACH HENRY TO DEPART.

Faculty Coach David Henry of Country Day has resigned, but will continue in office until school closes in June. He is one of Brown's former all-round athletic stars.

SHUBERT TO BOX MOORE.

New Bedford, April 17.—Al Shubert and Pal Moore of Memphis meet in a twelve-round bout at the Whaling A. C. tonight.

TWO DODGERS LOSE OUT.

New York, April 17.—President Ebbets of the Dodgers announces that Catcher Mack Wheat, Zach's brother, and Infielder Jack Karst have been turned over to the Troy (New York State League) club.

RUDOLPH TO BUCK ALECK

Braves Open Three Games Series in Philadelphia Today—Then Come Home for Opening.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—Playing an exhibition game at New Haven, Ct., yesterday, and also pocketing the money, as a crowd of fully 6,000 fans turned out for the Braves' matinee with the Colonials, Manager Stallings is on deck with his crew of pennant-chasers.

The series limited to three games, opens today. Then, the highfalutin' Braves hit out for Boston where they give the folks at home the first taste of National League ball for the season Thursday. The Dodgers, whom the Braves have just got through trimming two straight, will form the visiting attraction.

Aside from Hero Sherwood Magee, whose long hits settled the two Brooklyn frolics, Stallings used all his regulars at New Haven. The game was stiffly contested, with the Braves only going over, 4-2. Knetzer went the entire route, with Tragresser handling his slants. Connolly subbed for Magee in left, while Compton was on duty in centre.

Maranville, Konetchy and Compton did the bulk of the hitting. Strangely enough, this trio also made the wild heaves, which allowed the Colonials to come so close.

For the big series here it looks as if Dick Rudolph will hook up with Grover Alexander today. Each topliner won his maiden championship start. So, it looks as if the fans will see a battle royal.

It is Stallings' tip that George Tyler is back on his 1914 stride, and it will be recalled that the Derry boy was as good as any Southpaw in the game that season. He is sure to start in one of the battles here.

The bugs turned out in big numbers for the Phillies' recent series with the Giants, and, as the Braves have always been big favorites here, the chances are they will play to big business, especially as the weather has finally moderated and become ideal for baseball.

YALE CREWS READY FOR PENN REGATTA

New Haven, Ct., April 17.—With the exception of a spirited two-mile race over their racing distance of two miles, the two Yale crews, which will meet University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia next Saturday, have wound up their severe home training.

Yale closes its Winter term Wednesday. Before then Coach Guy Nickalls expects to test the racing possibilities of both crews to their limit. They are powerful, but like many veteran crews have been slow to develop.

New Plan of Clothes Selling
The Reason for Its Existence:
The Old Way
means an enormous overhead expense, high, first-floor rents, credit accounts, with a corps of collectors, bookkeepers and the inevitable bad debts; expensive free deliveries with automobiles, wagons and delivery boys, high-salaried floor-walkers and window trimmers; expensive equipment and fixtures; all these and a score of other expenses cost enormous sums which add nothing to the style and service of clothes, and you pay the bill.
The New Plan
eliminates every possible operating expense. It means low rents, as our stores are never on the first floor; no charge accounts, no bad debts, no free deliveries, no high-salaried floor-walkers or window dressers, no early season high prices to cover later reductions, no extravagant organization or expensive equipment. All this results in an enormous saving, which enables us to give $18, $20 and $25 quality for one fixed price, $15. You save the difference.

Speaker Shows Up Ty Tris Stars Before Mob

By ED BANG.

CLEVELAND, April 17.—Tris Speaker, former Boston idol, had it over Ty Cobb like a threering circus in their initial clash of the season, at League Park, yesterday.

Close to 24,000 people paid to see baseball's greatest outfielders hook up in their battle royal, and each and every fan will tell you that for one day at least, Tris earned his salary and big dividends for his employers.

In his first time at bat "Spoke" almost knocked Third Baseman Vitt over in his tracks with a wicked single. Tris died stealing. On Speaker's second trip to the plate there were two out and a man on first. Tris hammered a double into the crowd behind Cobb and followed Roth across the plate when Gandil came through with a single.

TRIS THE WHOLE SHOW.

In the sixth inning, Vitt robbed Speaker of a single by a swell stop and throw. On Tris' fourth trip up, in the ninth inning, Chapman was on third with one down and a run needed to tie the score. Well, "Spoke" delivered a sharp single past Bush, Chapman scoring. Tris stole second but was left.

Cobb walked in the first round, only to be caught napping off third a little later on. O'Neill bluffed a throw, on which Ty refused to budge, falling victim to Steve's snap throw a moment later. In the third Cobb flied to Gandil, while in the fourth Fred Coumbe, former Red Sox southpaw, struck him out with first and second occupied and two down.

In the seventh Ty just beat out a grounder to Turner back of second. In the ninth he delivered a two-base hit with Vitt on second, scoring Oscar with the run that put the Tigers in front. Cleveland players aver that this was a lucky "punch," insisting that Ty was trying to pull away from the plate when the ball struck his bat and shot past Gandil.

TY NIPPED AT PLATE.

In the same ninth inning Cobb suffered the ignominy of being thrown out at the plate. Following Cobb's double, Veach cracked a single to right. Ty was off with the crack of the bat and it looked as if he would score, but Roth played the ball perfectly and got away a nifty throw to O'Neill. Steve blocked Cobb off and touched him out, but not until Ty's sharp spikes had torn a big rent in Steve's shin guard.

Giving Ty all credit that is his due, still Speaker batted .750 and slugged 1.000 for the day, while Ty batted for .500 and slugged .750. As for the defensive end of the game, well, really, Ty didn't hold a candle to Spoke.

Cobb had one putout, Howard, batting for Coumbe in the tenth, sending a fly to Tyrus with O'Neill on first. It wasn't a difficult catch. The assist credited to Cobb came in the fourth inning. After Gandil singled, scoring Roth and Speaker, "Chick" kept on for second. Pitcher Dauss intercepted Ty's throw and shot it to Bush, who in turn threw to Hellman, retiring Gandil.

COBB PULLS "BONER."

Ty spilled the beans for the Tigers in the ninth when Chapman sent a fly back of second. Cobb came in for the ball, with the result that Bush, who had started back for it, stopped in his tracks. The wind carried the ball in, and when Ty finally realized he couldn't make the catch, he yelled to Bush.

Donie tried to set himself, but too late. The ball struck in his hands and leaked through. Chapman proceeded to steal second as Roth fanned, and went to third on a short passed ball, scoring the tying run on Speaker's single.

In the tenth, with O'Neill on first and two out, Ty again jumped into the limelight with a poor play. Graney drove a liner to left-centre. Ty cut across the field to intercept it, but just managed to touch the ball, and when Veach, backing him up, finally recovered the sphere, O'Neill had scored and Graney was credited with a triple.

Had Cobb thought a little faster he could have prevented that run, as it was a cinch double, even if Ty made a perfect play on the ball. If he had permitted it to roll into the crowd unmolested, it would have counted only for a double and O'Neill would have been forced to stop at third.

PLAYS BOSTON ARTICLE.

As for Speaker's work on the defense, well, he couldn't have sparkled more brilliantly. He had five putouts and one assist. Two fly balls were easy chances; one from Veach's bat "Spoke" made look easy, while the other two were beauty bright catches.

In the third, with one run in and Crawford on third, with two out, Young pummeled a high line drive to centre. It looked like a cinch safe hit, but Speaker made a sensational catch. He caught up with the ball after a long run, leaped high in the air and speared the horsehide with his gloved hand. In the fourth he grabbed Stanage's low liner close to his shoe tops in right centre.

As for his assist, the throw to the plate was 100 per cent. perfect. It was in the tenth inning that Young doubled with two down. Stanage came through with a sharp single to centre. Young was off with the crack of the bat. Speaker grabbed the ball on the dead run and cut loose with one of his roundhouse curves to the plate. O'Neill didn't have to budge in his tracks for the ball. He simply blocked Young off in approved style and touched him out.

Detroiters can have their "Ty" Cobb, but give Cleveland fans Tris Speaker first, last and all the time. And don't be surprised if the prediction of that wise man of baseball, Fielder Jones, comes true, and Speaker tops Cobb in batting in 1916.

BOXING BRIEFS and GOSSIP

THE season at the Arena gets under way tomorrow night. All interested prospered when operating at the St. Botolph street amusement casino last Spring, Summer and Fall. No, the Winter season at the Hip. wasn't much to brag about.

GRANTING that some of the so-called star go-tos were little more than bona fide semi-finals, truth it is that all of them were honestly and warmly fought, and, if the battling was none too classy, it was ferocious enough to please the members.

THE game at the Arena last Summer was splendidly supported. The Atlas A. A. bookings were unusually good in the main, with the result that the fans saw some most exhilarating sport and the club prospered.

REPORT has it that the club intends returning to its old gag and importing a New York referee to handle the main events when the big league stuff gets back on the boards. In the meantime Maffitt Flaherty will probably continue running the four bouts nightly.

FLAHERTY evidently doesn't want to hurt the reputation of any boxer. He takes positive delight in rendering draw decisions whenever possible, and generally gives the loser more attention than the winner when completing his guess. Phil Powers was doing uniformly good work and his withdrawal hasn't done the local boxing game any good.

FLAHERTY just cannot get a break in the ring. He handles a bout nicely, knows the game from end to end and back again, steps around plenty swiftly enough, even if no lightweight, but simply cannot pick the bouts as the bulk of the members see them.

TOMORROW night's big number may result in the best show of this and all other seasons, but a heavy accent must go on the word may. It brings together Matt Wells, the jabbing, tapping, crafty, cunning Britisher, and Eddie Murphy, who can likewise jab and tap, and is fairly crafty and cunning, of South Boston.

JOE CONNOLLY of Charlestown and Tommy McFarland of the North End clash in the semi-final. This bout should be crammed full of punching.

THE happy man is the well man. The first step toward good health is freedom from constipation. You owe it to your system to let Pluto soften and flush away all the poisonous matter.

More Entries Coming for Marathon

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

It is expected that before dusk tonight at least several additional entries for the twentieth annual B. A. A. Marathon run will have been received at the offices of the club in Exeter street. Of chief importance among those expected to arrive is that of Jamieson, the Onondaga Indian, who was favored last year but who failed to show up to expectations.

The fact that Governor McCall has consented to act as honorary referee of the race was extremely pleasing to the officials of the B. A. A. Governor McCall informed them that if necessary he was prepared to ride over the entire course in an automobile. Should he do so he will be the first chief executive of the State to do so in the history of the race.

One entry was received in the Sunday mail, that of John Ambrose of the Prince A. C., of Boston. Ambrose wrote in that he had been training faithfully for the race that he felt confident of finishing well up with the leaders. All preparations have been completed, and the course has been officially viewed by those having the event in charge.

Superintendent of Police Michael Crowley and Captain Thomas F. Goode of the Back Bay Station have gone over the police arrangements thoroughly and that detail of the race is in perfect shape. The same traffic regulations which have been in force in other year's will continue in force this year.

In addition to Jamieson's entry those of Hugh Honohan of the New York A. C., who finished fourth last year, and Manuel Cooper of the Y. M. H. A., of Chicago are believed to be on the way as well as the names of a number of lesser lights in the long distance game. Manager Brown thinks that the list will reach if not exceed that of last year when seventy-eighth blanks were received.

Wills-Langford in Another Bout

HARRY WILLS and Sam Langford are scheduled to meet again. This time it will be [illegible] twenty-round bout in [illegible], April [illegible].

PAL MOORE, the Memphis bantam, and Al Shubert, the hope and pride of Massachusetts, meet at New Bedford tonight. Shubert has a verdict over the Southerner, but Moore hopes to reverse it.

VIC HANSON, and not "Sailor" Grande, will oppose Gus Christie in a ten-round bout in Kansas City one week from tomorrow night. On the same card "Battling" [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] in the [illegible].

THE Sam McVea-Harry Wills session, originally scheduled to be staged at the Harlem Sporting Club Friday night, has been postponed until next Monday night.

JACK DILLON has been signed to meet the best opponent obtainable at the Broadway Auditorium in Buffalo one week from Thursday night. "Gunboat" Davis may be the man selected to oppose the Indianapolis mauler.

FOUR years ago "Kid" Julian, the Rochester, N. Y., battler, upset the equilibrium of Matt Brock of Cleveland by sending him to Slumberland. These boys have finally been matched to again try conclusions in Cleveland.

Soccer Struggle Ends Without Any Scoring

Chicago, April 17.—A scoreless tie was played by the Pullman and Bethlehem (Pa.) soccer elevens in the semi-final game for the cup emblematic of the championship of the United States.

An extra period was played without either team scoring and then darkness brought the remarkable battle to a close. The game was brilliantly and cleanly played.

The selection of the time and place for replaying the game was referred by telegraph to officials of the United States Soccer Association. The winner will meet the Fall River Rovers for the title.

A $100 silver cup for the best baby in Greater Boston.

Ten gold medals for the next ten best babies.

Fifteen silver medals for the following fifteen, and

Twenty-five bronze medals for another fine group of babies.

These are the inducements offered by the AMERICAN. Every parent owes it to "King Baby" to give him a chance to win one of the prizes.

A CHANCE TO HELP.

Besides an opportunity to win a prize for the baby, the AMERICAN is asking the parents of perfect babies to help those other mothers, who are groping for information, by telling what made the perfect baby.

Not only is the AMERICAN interested in discovering this secret of babyhood, but thousands of mothers all over New England are most anxious to find out for themselves what is needed to bring their babies up to the standard.

There are boards of health of forty towns at least which also would like to know the secret to help them to bring down the death rate of young babies.

A LESSON IN EVERY BABY.

Here is your opportunity—you who have raised your infant in a perfect way—to tell about it and thus help spread the "Better Baby" gospel.

Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, chairman of the Boston Board of Health, is watching this baby contest with intense interest. He is one of the judges, and when the secret of perfect babies is learned through the AMERICAN he may be assisted in finding ways to eliminate many causes of infant mortality.

Every one of fifty-one babies to be awarded a prize will preach a sermon all of his own from personal experience.

It may be that some of the fortunate babies who win medals are healthy, strong and beautiful in spite of neglect and indifference on the part of mothers, but that will not be the case with the majority. It will be found that they have been reared after the most approved rules—fed with the best food, dressed as babies should be dressed, exercised and developed properly.

BABY WILL PROVE THE RULES.

Many letters received from mothers tell how their babies are given plenty of fresh air, even to sleeping out of doors, are never humored when they are unreasonable, and are controlled when wilful.

Here is a splendid chance for the mothers of Greater Boston to become teachers. They need not mount a platform and say: "Ladies and gentlemen, in order to bring up a perfect baby you should read many books and listen to many lectures." In Boston mothers with babies who have won prizes may say through the AMERICAN:

"Ladies and gentlemen—Here you see a baby who has won a medal because of its excellent qualities. I brought him up. I know everything that has happened to him from the time he was born. You may be interested to learn that this baby was nursed for nine months, that it spent part of each day out of doors"—but we must wait for the rest till the prizes are awarded.

SEND IN QUESTIONS.

At the present time, if any mothers would like to know what kind of clothing is best for the baby, what sort of bed brings the most peaceful sleep, how baby may be protected from flies and disease germs, when and what kind of food he should have, what should be done to give him exercise, where and how he should get his fresh air, how he should be bathed, when weaned, what to do to cure his ailments—send the questions to this office, in care of Dr. Mary T. Moore, who will answer as soon as possible.

If you think your babies are worth more than set down by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University, who stated that the average baby is worth ninety dollars—then it may pay you to study some of the scientific rules for the raising of babies.

WILLIAM E. DOYLE, FLORIST, IS DEAD

William E. Doyle, widely known throughout New England as a florist and for many years a leader in the business and political life of Cambridge, is dead at his home, Kilsyth road, Brookline. He had been out of active business life for a little over a year, but his general health continued good to within a few days.

Mr. Doyle was born in Roxbury, May 23, 1843.

ASK DEFEAT OF BILL TO RAISE TAX LIMIT

Representative Boston business men have joined in an appeal to the Massachusetts Senate to defeat Mayor Curley's bill to increase the city tax limit fifty cents. The bill is on the calendar of the Senate for tomorrow.

The statement is signed by Henry E. Hagan, president Boston City Council; Francis W. Bird, member committee on municipal and metropolitan affairs, Boston Chamber of Commerce; Francis R. Bangs, president Real Estate Exchange and Auction board; Geoffrey B. Lehy, member executive committee, Boston Charter Association; George R. Nutter, member executive committee, Good Government Association; George F. Washburn, president Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange.

The statement points out that "Boston does not have better streets because Mr. Curley and his predecessors skimped the streets in order to put the money into payrolls. This year the budget allowed by Mr. Curley shows a payroll increase of $323,969 in the departments under his own control."

It is maintained that a saving of "a small part of the money which is now wasted in other departments" will provide sufficient money to put the streets in order. The statement criticizes the efficiency of the paving division of the street department and says that if the Mayor will "make the loafers in the paving division do a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, Boston can have good streets without paying Mr. Curley more than is being paid to him now."

An analysis of the situation made by the men who signed the statement shows that in the last ten years the money spent on the streets has decreased 31 per cent. The signers of the statement point out that the Mayor spent last year 34 per cent. less on the streets than was spent ten years ago.

CONDUCTOR WAS WARNED IN TIME

J. F. Boyce of Brighton, Mass., Says He Was Entirely Cured by Plant Juice.

When one neglects their condition and they suffer from headache, backache, dizziness, poor circulation, unsound sleep, or constipation, it is well to remember that these symptoms of stomach trouble are bound to lead to more serious trouble. Give your stomach a chance to make good; help it, that you may again know the feeling of real health—again have that vim, energy and vigor, clean tongue, sweet breath, good complexion, and be able to sleep the night through, and to eat the food you crave without fear of the consequences. The new system tonic, Plant Juice, now being introduced here, will assist that much abused organ, the stomach, to accomplish these results.

Many Boston people are daily testifying that they have regained their health through the use of Plant Juice. Recently the signed testimonial of Mr. J. F. Boyce, a popular employe of the Boston Street Railway Company, who lives at No. 2 Mountfern Avenue, Brighton, Mass., was received, which stated:

"I have had stomach trouble, indigestion and dyspepsia for the past four years. My food fermented and caused gas and a heavy, bloated condition in the pit of my stomach. I had no appetite and nothing tasted good to me; was constipated, had headaches, dizzy spells and dreadful pains across my back. I had to be very careful about what I ate and could scarcely keep any solid food on my stomach. After taking three bottles of Plant Juice I have no more trouble with my stomach and can eat any kind of food without distress, sleep well, have no more trouble with my kidneys or liver, and I am glad to state that I am a well man—entirely cured. I am glad to recommend Plant Juice to anyone, as it does all that is claimed for it."

The Plant Juice man is at the drug dept. of Houghton & Dutton Co.'s store, where he daily meets the local public and introduces and explains the merits of this remedy.—Advertisement.

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS

By W. H. ROSS, Financial Editor

Stocks were weak at noon in New York, there having been a reaction around the end of the first hour. There was no rally during the last half of the forenoon. After the early demand was filled a considerable supply of stocks came upon the market, accompanied by unfavorable rumors regarding the situation in Mexico and relations with Germany. War industrials weakened the most.

Declines at 12 o'clock included Anaconda ⅛, Chino ⅛, Inspiration ⅛, American Zinc ¼, American Can ⅝, American Sugar 1⅛, U. S. Steel ⅝, Bethlehem Steel 3½, Crucible 1½, Colorado Fuel ⅝, Car & Foundry 1¼, American Locomotive 1⅛, Baldwin 3⅝, Maxwell ⅝, Studebaker 1⅝, Willys-Overland ⅞, Westinghouse 1⅛, Industrial Alcohol 3⅛, N. Y. Air Brake 2, United Fruit 1⅛, N. Y. Central ⅛, New Haven ⅝, Reading ⅞ and Union Pacific ¼.

Among gains were Greene Cananea 1⅛, Butte & Superior ⅛, Mexican Petroleum 1⅞, Marine preferred certificates ⅛, Baltimore & Ohio ⅛, Canadian Pacific ½, Chesapeake & Ohio ⅛ and Northern Pacific ⅛.

Kennecott, Utah Copper, Southern Pacific, St. Paul and U. S. Smelting were unchanged.

Reports that no more munitions would be bought by the allies in this country was one reason for recessions.

Declines in Boston, where the list followed the New York lead to some extent, included Allouez ½, Copper Range 1, Mohawk ¾, United Fruit ¾, Boston & Maine ½, Boston Elevated ½ and Woolen preferred ¼.

Among gains were Calumet & Arizona ¼, North Butte ¼, Old Dominion ¼, St. Mary ½, Wolverine ¼, New Haven ½, U. S. Smelting ¼.

American Zinc, Butte & Superior, Alaska Gold, Quincy and United Shoe were unchanged.

HIGHER AT THE OPENING.

Prices were up in New York at the opening, with the so-called Mexican issues especially so. Short covering and accumulation were found. The supply was limited and stocks could be obtained only at advances. Among those to show largest initial gains were American Smelting, Mexican Petroleum, U. S. Smelting, Industrial Alcohol, Maxwell, Crucible Steel and Butte & Superior. All began a point or more higher. Mexican Petroleum started with a four-point advance. Early trading was of good volume. The price improvement extended through out the list. Sentiment was more cheerful than it was on Saturday. While traders were doubtful as to the the death of Villa it was thought the wide circulation of the report, with news censored as it has been, might point to the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico and postponement of a crisis along the Rio Grande. As regards relations with Germany, one market observer remarked it looks as if the American people will be given a further course in a correspondence school. It was also remarked that the headmaster is positive about the pen being mightier than the sword.

Although the market was strong it was lacking in breadth, the bulk of the business being in stocks of corporations having property interests in Mexico, and a few war order specialties. Crucible Steel and Baldwin Locomotive were among the most active industrials of that kind. Coppers were in evidence, but railroads were very quiet. At the end of half an hour there was a slight reactionary tendency as usual. Advances had diminished.

The Boston market was dull at the beginning, but it had strength. It was narrow and quiet during the first hour. Trading was chiefly in U. S. Smelting and zinc issues.

Mexico---and American Duty

We Owe Something to Mexico, EVERYTHING TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN DANGER

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company

THE picture on this page describes the situation in Mexico.

Mexican "government" means one little group of bandits succeeding another group of bandits. One group of bandits murders American citizens on American soil.

The President of the United States sends a handful of American soldiers hundreds of miles into Mexico to catch that particular group of bandits.

Another group of bandits which President Wilson recognizes as the government of Mexico says to the United States, "We are not sure that we can keep our fellow-citizens from murdering your soldiers?"

What is the United States going to do? and far more important, WHAT IS GOING TO HAPPEN TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIERS SENT INTO MEXICO?

The latest news is that some of them have been killed by Mexicans who objected to the uniform and the flag of the United States.

Are they ALL to be killed, and if they are all killed, upon whom will the responsibility rest?

Who will be responsible for trusting one particular collection of bandits, just now in power?

When one bandit crossed the border to murder a few Americans by way of defiance, what course should have been pursued?

Should not the government at Washington have realized that in dealing with Mexico it deals with a country where various BANDITS rule?

And should we not have sent into Mexico enough men to take care of ALL the bandits, in and out of power, and enough men to take care of THEMSELVES?

Was it not a crime, a stupid blunder utterly inexcusable, to accept the word of a bandit faction and send insufficient forces to the risk that now surrounds our men?

Mexico is an unfortunate country, cursed with ignorance, superstition, brutality and banditry that have endured for centuries.

TEXAS, which was once Mexico, shows what the United States can do in reclaiming Mexican territory and civilizing it.

What the United States has shown in Texas, once part of Mexico, the United States should show now FROM ONE END OF MEXICO TO THE OTHER.

The way to pacify Mexico, to save the miserable Mexican men and women from murder and exploitation, put an end to the alternating rule of bandit cliques and temporary dictatorship, is to SEND TO MEXICO A FORCE GREAT ENOUGH TO ESTABLISH PEACE AND KEEP IT.

It is quite possible now that the men sent with short-sighted haste into Mexico may never come back alive.

The humiliating experience at Vera Cruz may fail of repetition, not because our government is unwilling to humiliate itself again, but because the Mexicans may murder our men before a government intimidated is ABLE to withdraw them.

Human Beings Do Improve

This Fact Is Emphasized in an Editorial by Harvey Ingham, Editor of the Register and Leader, of Iowa

Copyright, 1916, by the Star Company

HE says:

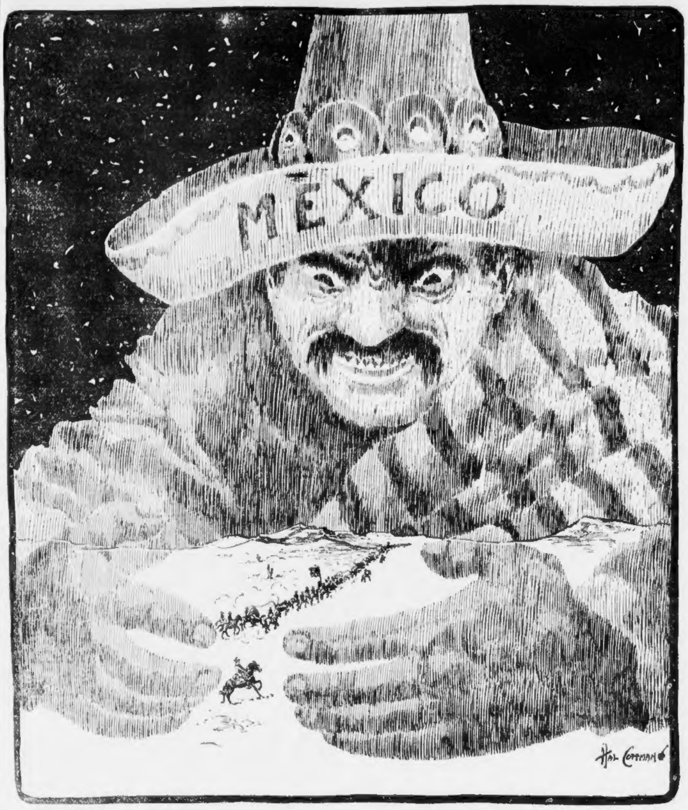
"When James Audubon, America's greatest naturalist, sailed down the Ohio River to open a general merchandise store at a settlement in what is now southern Illinois, his cargo consisted of 300 barrels of whiskey and a trifling quantity of other commodities. He made this trip during the administration of Thomas Jefferson."

Mr. Ingham quotes Audubon as saying that "he sold whiskey because it was the commodity most in demand and produced the greatest financial returns for its bulk." And he asks, "Would he sell whiskey if he were living today?"

The answer is that if he sold any alcoholic drink in the prohibition State of Iowa it would have to be whiskey, because that is the only alcoholic drink sold there. And as Des Moines newspapers tell us, it is sold by the carload.

If the government did its duty, classing whiskey with the other poisons, opium, morphine, cocaine, it would be impossible for one like the great Audubon, or the little boot-legger, to sell whiskey anywhere in the United States.

IN A TIGHT CLUTCH



Five thousand American soldiers are sent hundreds of miles into Mexico at the mercy of an unfriendly population, inured to killing people by long years of civil war, and outnumbering our soldiers a thousand to one.

Our soldiers must walk—because the bandits now calling themselves "government" will not permit use of the railroads.

Their reliance is on a thin and inadequate train of motor cars stretching across the hundreds of miles to United States soil.

The head of the Mexican bandit "government" says to this country: "Take your men out of here. We cannot guarantee that they will not be murdered."

PLEASANT MESSAGE.

This country CAN guarantee that if our men are murdered, while pursuing the murderer Villa, many in Mexico will regret it and many square miles of Mexico will pay for it. But that is poor satisfaction.

If this clutch of murder closes on the inadequate force of brave men sent into Mexico, upon WHOM will rest responsibility for their death? [See Editorial.]

The Two Glasses

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Republished by Request.

Copyright, 1916, Star Company.

THERE sat two glasses filled to the brim
On a rich man's table, rim to rim.
One was ruddy and red as blood,
And one was clear as the crystal flood.

Said the glass of wine to his paler brother,
"Let us tell tales of the past to each other;
I can tell of banquet, and revel, and mirth,
Where I was king, for I ruled in might,
And the proudest and grandest souls on earth
Fell under my touch as though struck with blight.
From the heads of kings I have torn the crown;
From the heights of fame I have hurled men down.
I have blasted many an honored name;
I have taken virtue and given shame;
I have tempted youth with a sip, a taste,
That has made his future a barren waste.
Far greater than any king am I
Or than any army beneath the sky.
I have made the arm of the driver fail,
And sent the train from the iron rail;
I have made good ships go down at sea,
And the shrieks of the lost were sweet to me.
Fame, strength, wealth, genius before me fall,
And my might and power are over all!
Ho, ho! pale brother," said the wine,
"Can you boast of deeds as great as mine?"

Said the water-glass: "I cannot boast
Of a king dethroned, or a murdered host;
But I can tell of hearts that were sad
By my crystal drops made bright and glad;
Of thirsts I have quenched and brows I have laved,
Of hands I have cooled and souls I have saved.
I have leaped through the valley, dashed down the mountain,
Slept in the sunshine and dripped from the fountain,
I have burst my cloud-fetters and dropped from the sky
And everywhere gladdened the prospect and eye.
I have eased the hot forehead of fever and pain,
I have made the parched meadows grow fertile with grain;
I can tell of the powerful wheel of the mill
That ground out the flour, and turned at my will.
I can tell of manhood debased by you
That I have uplifted and crowned anew.
I cheer, I help, I strengthen and aid;
I gladden the heart of man and maid;
I set the wine-chained and captive free,
And all are better for knowing me."

These are the tales they told each other—
The glass of wine and its paler brother—
As they sat together, filled to the brim,
On a rich man's table, rim to rim.

Equal Suffrage Would Bring Women Jurors

Then, Indeed, Feminine Criminals, with Whom Men Are Clearly Unable to Deal, Would Get Real Justice Regardless of Their Tears and Entreaties

By Dorothy Dix

IN an address which he made recently to the Grand Jurors' Association, Judge Mulqueen of New York said that his reason for voting for woman suffrage was that the women might relieve the men on Grand Jury cases. This, Judge Mulqueen declared, would correct many evils.

A Daniel! A second Daniel, come to judgment!

Judge Mulqueen is right. One of the blessings that woman suffrage would bestow on the country would be to render a large body of citizens eligible for jury service who would not only have the ability but the leisure in which to properly perform that civic duty.

When the average man is drawn for the jury, it calls for such a sacrifice that he evades serving if he can possibly do so. If he is a clerk, his employer lets him off with mutterings and grumblings, and he has always the fear of someone supplanting him in his situation while he is gone.

If he is a business or professional man, his absence from the store or office for a week or more may cost him thousands of dollars, and no matter how he tries to follow the intricacies of a case, in the back of his mind is always an anxious worry over the probable mistakes that his employes are making while he is gone.

Women Competent, Willing and Have Time to Spare

It is not because men are lacking in civic conscience that they are loath to serve on juries, but simply because in the fierce competition of the struggle for existence they can't afford it. The average woman is not so hard pressed. She has plenty of the time that is not money, and she would be glad to do her bit for her country by relieving men from having to serve on juries.

In every community there are numbers of well-off, middle-aged women, locally renowned for their hard horse sense and their kind hearts; women who are wise in the knowledge of the human heart, and ripe in experience, women to whom everyone who knows them goes for counsel and advice.

These women have raised their own families and their hands are idle. They would make ideal jurors who would bring an unhurried, unworried attention to the consideration of a case submitted to them that is impossible to men worried and troubled about their own affairs.

It has always been a cynical little legal jest that the right of trial by jury, which guarantees to the offender against the law "the right to be tried by a jury of his peers," did not permit women on juries.

Men universally assert that they have never been able to learn even the a, b, c of feminine psychology, and that womankind is a riddle beyond their guessing.

Realizing this, men juries generally just throw up their hands and give the problem up when they are called upon to deal with a woman criminal, and let her go scot free. This gives us those travesties of justice that disgrace our courts, where, after the prosecutor has spent weeks of time and thousands of dollars in proving a woman guilty of some crime, the jury brings in a verdict of "not guilty" in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary.

A woman jury would correct this evil. A woman jury would have no traditions of gallantry to uphold, nor would it be affected by the beauty of the defendant, or consider that the possession of blue eyes and golden hair and a willowy figure gave a lady a right to put poison in her husband's coffee because she had fallen in love with another man.

And a woman jury would possess the infallible recipe for testing a woman's tears, and telling when they were genuine tears of grief or repentance and when crocodile tears.

Women Can Judge Women Just as Men Judge Men

Nor would women juries be unduly harsh to their sex. They would simply understand just what motives lay behind every act that a woman committed. They would simply judge her intelligently, as men judge another man.

That women should be on the juries that try cases involving little children and erring girls is self obvious. Motherhood gives an intuition that is a sort of second sight in these matters, and that would enable a jury of women to dispense justice with the wisdom of a Solomon.

Of course the woman jury is coming. It will be one of the modern improvements of the near future, and then we shall wonder, as they do out West, where women vote and where they have the woman jury, why we were silly enough to do without it so long.

An Emergency Call

Now from the crannies in the walls
The scoundrel flylet squirms
And leaves behind him as he crawl
Great multitudes of germs.
He scatters microbes every place
The sinful creature goes.
He leaves them on grandfather'

And on the baby's nose.
And by and by he'll take a wife—
The notion's bound to strike him—
He'll settle down to married life
And raise a million like him.
And if the public was not thick
(That's slang, you know, fo stupid),
They'd hurry up and swat him quick
Before he's snared by Cupid.
